Halloween

Presented by the Senior Class

All Hallows High School

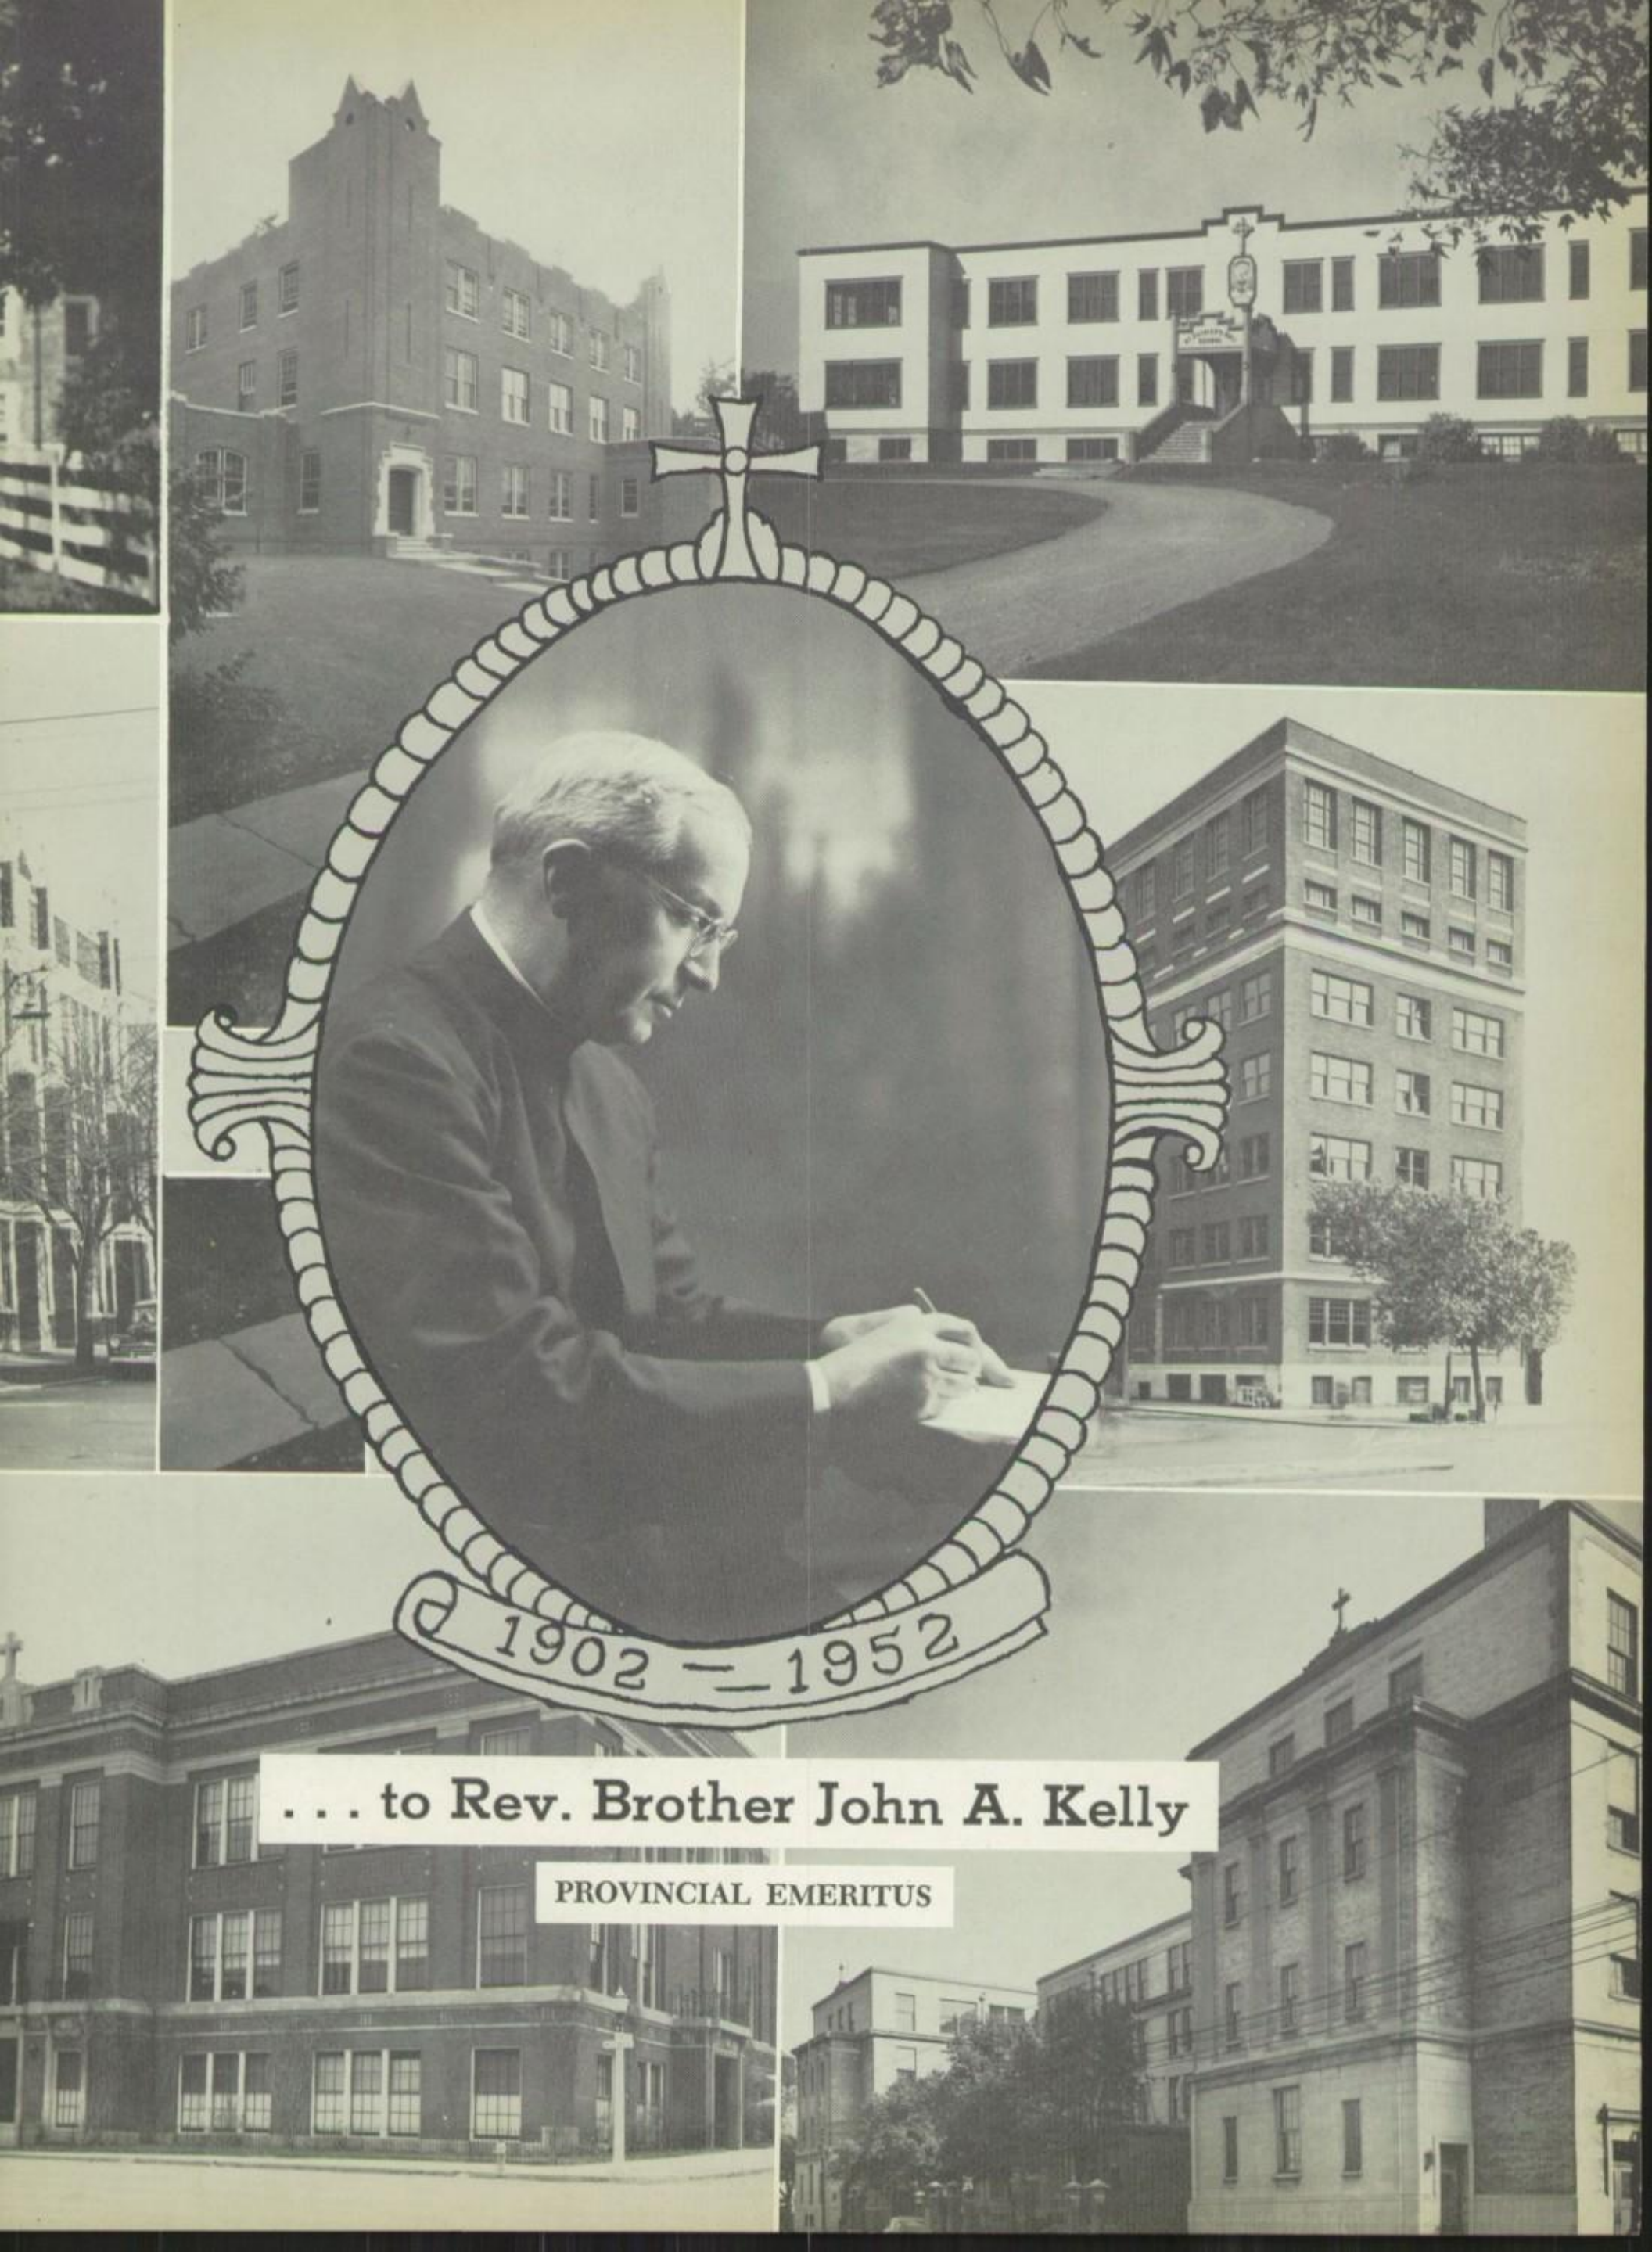

BRONX, NEW YORK

Dedication...

In publishing the Halloween to commemorate the Golden Jubilee of Rev. Brother John A. Kelly, former Provincial of the Brothers in America, the graduates of 1953 dedicate this issue to one who through fifty years of meritorious and selfsacrificing service has achieved distinguished honors.

It is with gratitude to Almighty God that we the graduating class of 1953 pray that the reverend Brother be blessed with a plentitude of graces in reward for his zealous labors in the Lord's Vineyard.

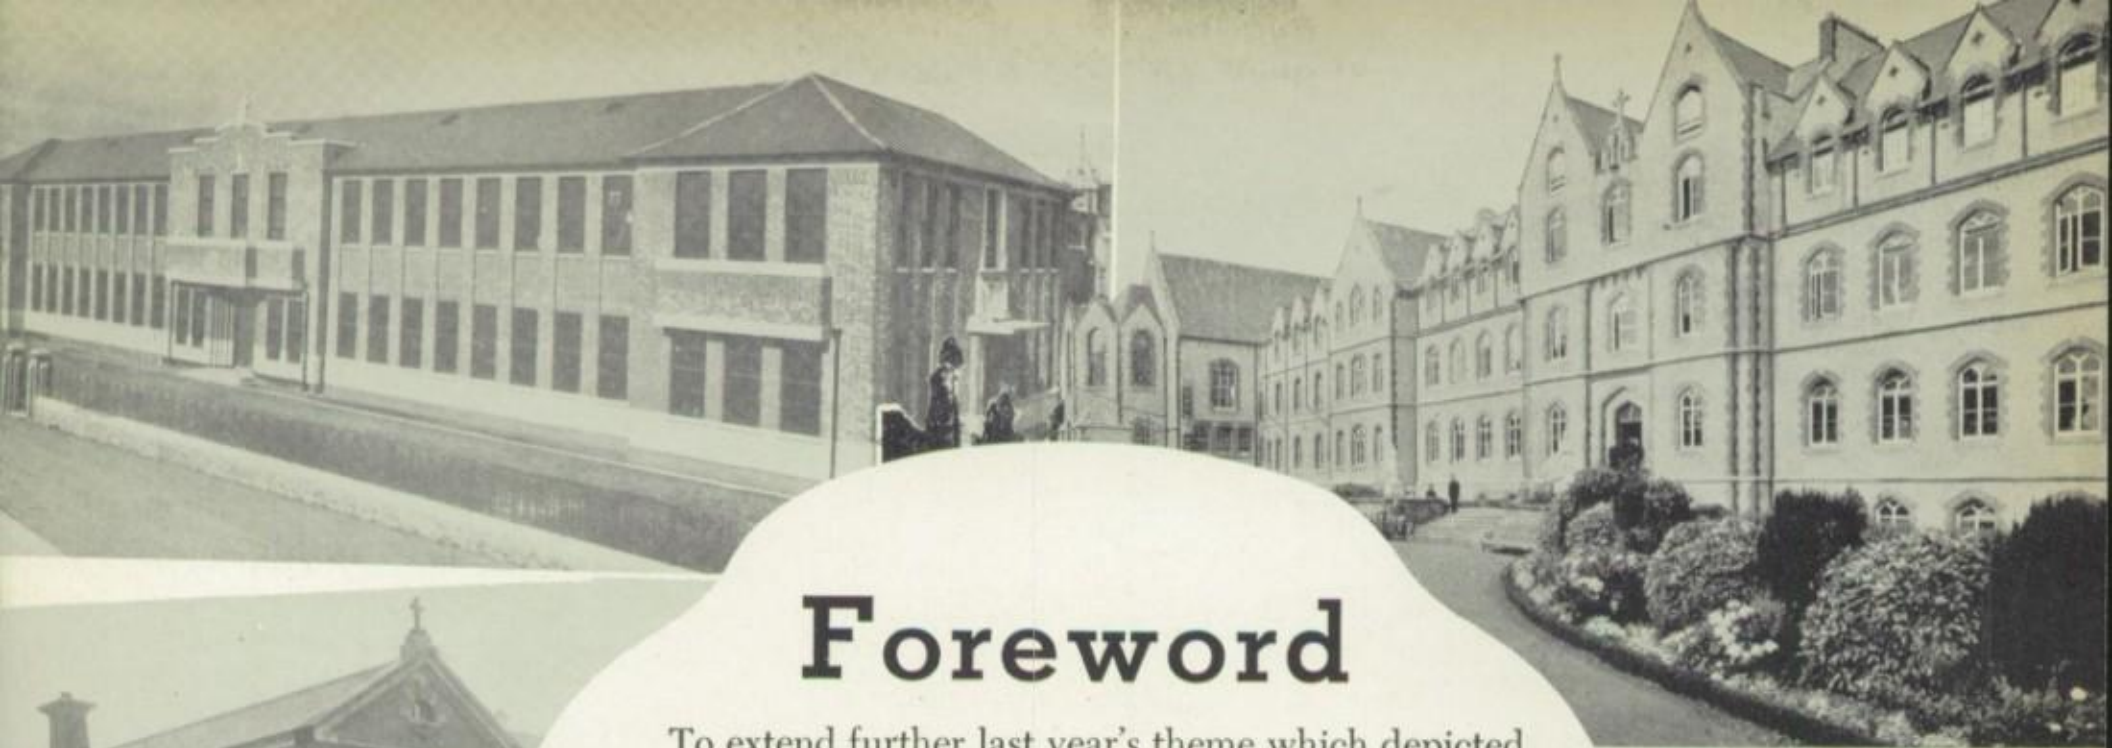

... to Rev. Brother John A. Kelly

PROVINCIAL EMERITUS

Reverend Brother D. F. Curtin, M.S.
Principal

Foreword

To extend further last year's theme which depicted the growth of the American Province, the purpose of the 1953 Halloween is to show, mainly through pictorial presentation, the manner in which Providence has so signally blessed the work of the Brothers in other lands. The little mustard seed has grown into a beautiful tree spreading its branches all over the world, a testimony to the ardent zeal for the salvation of souls which burned so brightly in the Reverend Founder, Brother Edmund Ignatius Rice.

Ireland

To attempt to record here the development of the Brothers' Schools through a span of over one hundred fifty years would be fatuous. The photographs shown will give some idea of the type of educational establishment one finds in Ireland. Scarcely a city or a town but has one or more schools under the Brothers' jurisdiction. Colleges, Teachers' Training Schools, Technical Institutions, Preparation Training Schools, Orphanages and Primary Schools, close to one hundred in number, are found where students learn to be true sons of the Church and their Fatherland.

England

In 1825 the Brothers opened their first school in England. Through varying vicissitudes, mounting through lack of monetary assistance, the Brothers continued their apostolic work, and at the present time, together with the training schools and college for aspirants to the Order, the Brothers have nine Secondary Schools and an Approved School for orphans and dependent children. The English Province includes England, Scotland and Wales.

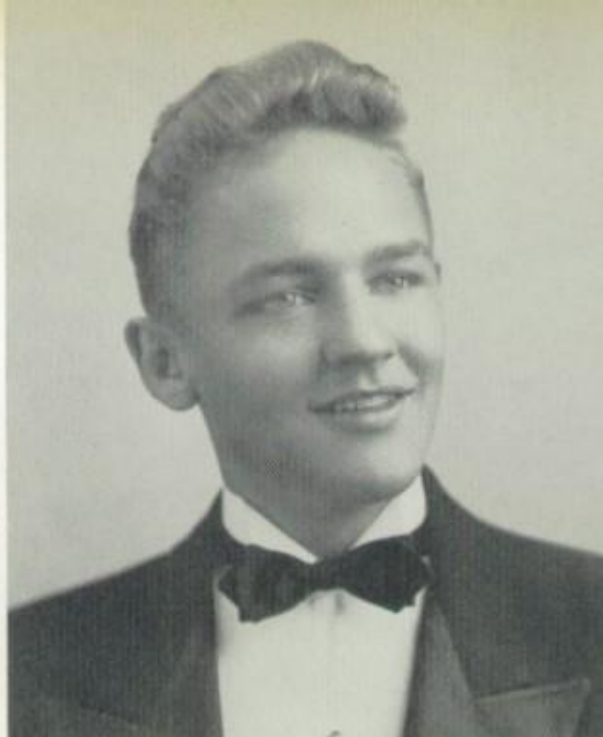

Seniors

JOHN C. ALSINA

John, from St. Michael's, has been a popular and good-humored student. For three years a member of the Library League, he still finds time enough to delve into the many wonders of his hobby, aeronautics. Best wishes to John at Columbia.

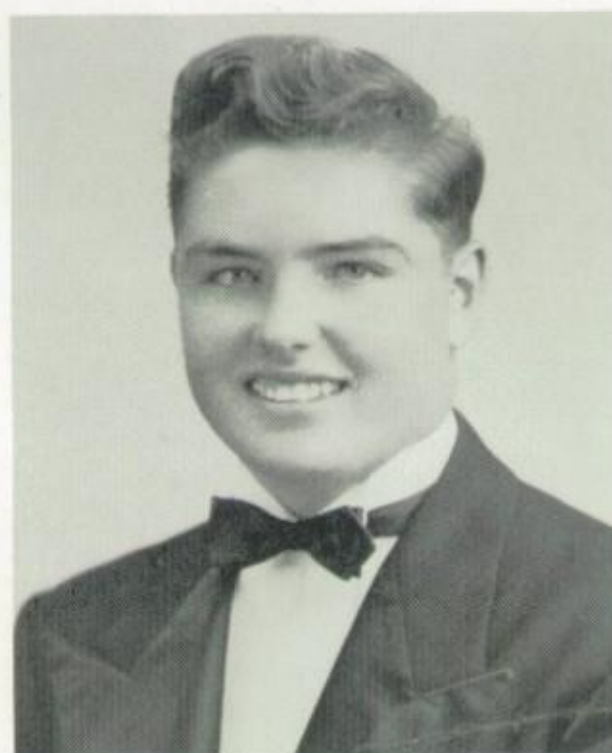

JOHN A. BOCK

John, a product of St. Andrew Avellino, Flushing, is a popular Senior. His talents have added greatly to the success of the football team, baseball team, the Glee Club and the Debating Team. John plans to attend M.I.T. where he will study Mechanical Engineering.

HUGH J. BRADSHAW

Hugh, after entering All Hallows as an eager Frosh, immediately showed forth his talents on the Freshman basketball and track teams. Having since quieted down, he is now mainly known for his jovial wit and ready smile. Hugh aspires to a Science Course at Brown University.

ROBERT B. BRADSHAW

Bob is a dyed-in-the-wool Gael from St. Ann's Parish. His chunky legs have consistently churned our cross-country teams on to victory. Noel plans to channel his education into dental fields at St. Peter's College.

MARTIN P. BRESLIN

Marty, a product of Immaculate Conception, has shown true school spirit during his four years at All Hallows. A vehement cheerleader, Co-Chairman of the Dance Committee in senior year and Vice President and President of the Library League, he will attend Fort Schuyler to Study Marine Engineering.

MICHAEL B. BRODERICK

Hailing from Sacred Heart Parish, Bayside, Mike has distinguished himself by his ready wit and likeable personality. A member of the Dance Committee and Library League, he plans to study medicine at Cork University, Ireland. The good wishes of all his classmates go with him.

GERALD J. BUCKLEY

"Buck" is another highly respected Queensman, from St. Teresa's, Woodside. In the way of activities, he was a member of the Library League and the Dance Committee. The intricate science of Metereology is his calling. Good luck to Gerry at C.C.N.Y.

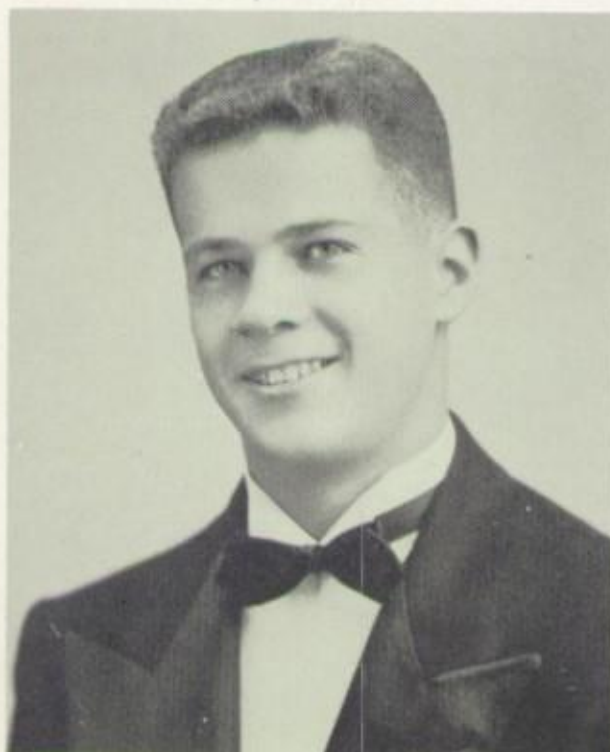

WILLIAM J. CAPALBO

Bill, a graduate of the All Hallows grammar school, has been on the staff of the Blue and White for three years, a member of the Glee Club and basketball team in Freshman Year and of the Varsity baseball team in Senior Year. Bill hopes to study Business Administration at Fordham.

J. BRIAN CAPRON

A pundit from St. Brendan's, Jim's booming voice has given a "golden" touch to the Glee Club. Practical and efficient, he will study at Fordham's Business School.

PETER J. CARNEY

Pete came to All Hallows from the parish of the Madonna. He has been a member of the Track Team for three years, and the Varsity Football Team in senior year. Pete will study Business Administration at Fordham University.

JOHN J. CASH

An All Hallows man from way back, Johnnie, during his ten years stay at the school has been a member of the Band and Track Team. Possessing a disposition hard to beat, Jack should succeed in any course of his choosing.

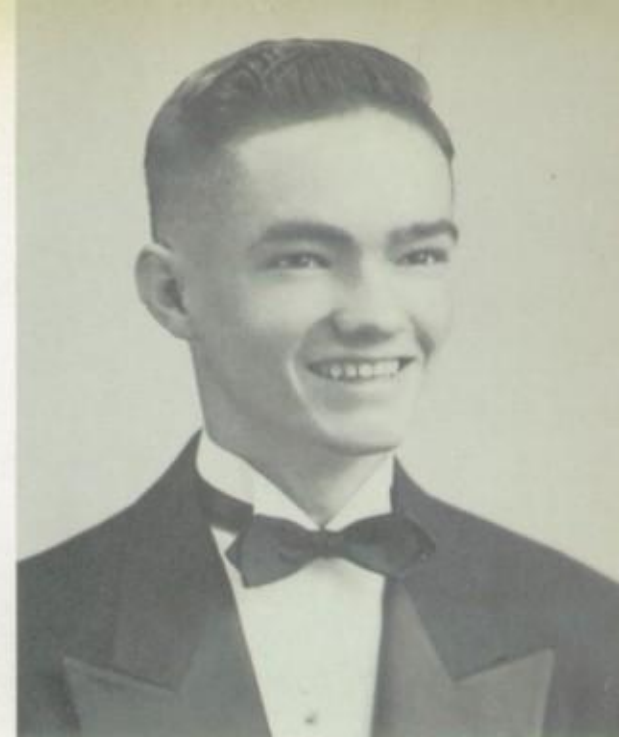

JAMES G. CAVANAGH

Jim has shown ability ever since his entrance. He is noted for his bright and candid quips. He also possesses studious habits. He contemplates the start of a Law Career at Fordham.

MICHAEL J. CAWLEY

Mike came to All Hallows from St. Thomas Aquinas grammar school. He was a member of the band for three years, the Varsity Football Team for one, and the Track Team. Mike intends to attend Illinois for a course in Chemical Engineering.

JAMES J. COLLINS

A medal winner and four year honor student, Jim has proved his worth to the school; having been a member of the Band, Dance Committee, and, in fourth year, Research Editor for "Halloween." Personality plus, Jim is sure to succeed in his chosen field, Engineering.

KEVIN K. COMERFORD

Kevin is St. Angela Merici's contribution to All Hallows. In senior year he played Varsity Football. His good disposition has won him many friends. He is undecided as to what college he will attend but hopes to attain a B.A. degree.

BERNARD J. CONATY

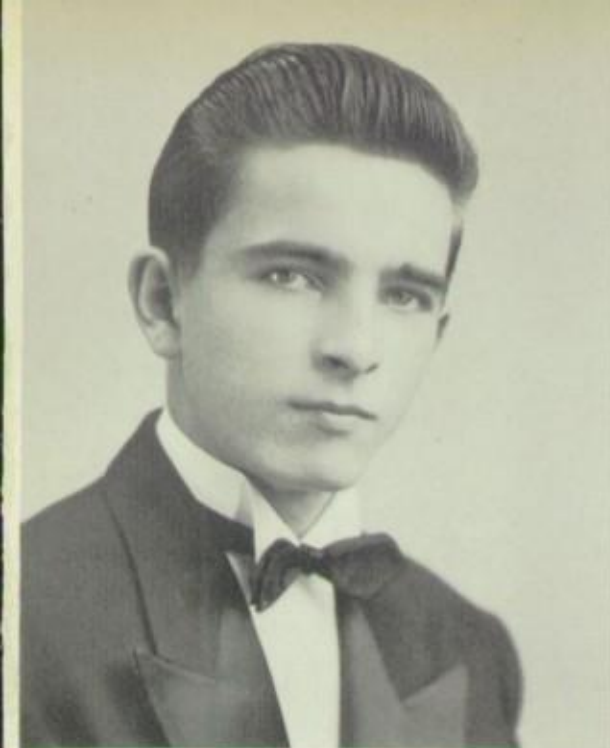

Berny, since his arrival in February 1950, has made many life long friends through his quiet humor and friendly attitude. Not a man to lie idle, he has been a member of the Library League and also a cheerleader.

JAMES P. CONSIDINE

Jim, a likeable fellow, came to us from Annunciation in Manhattan. A four year honor student and medal winner, he was a member of the Library League, the Glee Club and Associate Editor of the Halloween. He hopes to take up Engineering at Manhattan.

PATRICK T. COSTELLO

Pat has injected his talent and enthusiasm into every activity in which he has participated. In first year he was a Freshman Hoopster. Next he became a Glee Club member. We believe Pat will do well at Fordham.

JOHN U. COTTER

John was a graduate of St. Joseph's grammar school, a Glee Club member in Freshman Year, and a Varsity Baseball player in Senior Year. He has won many friends during his four years at All Hallows and hopes to attend Fordham for Business Administration.

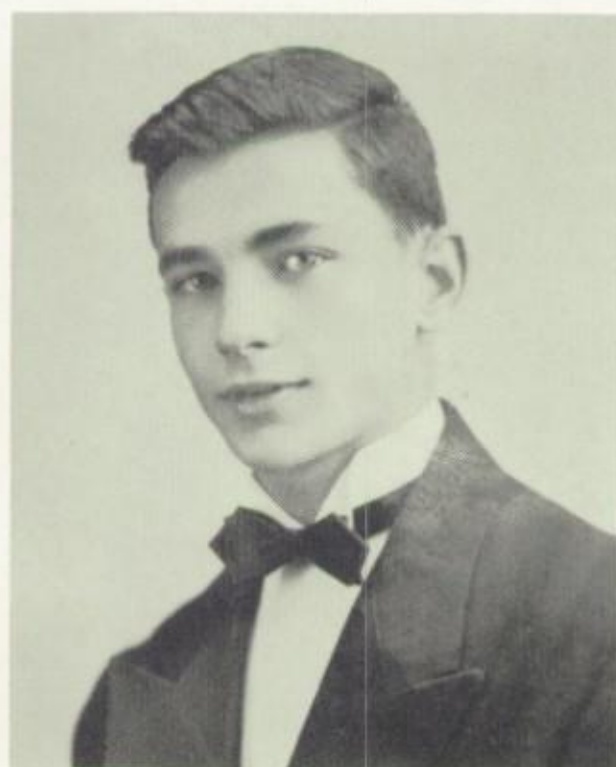

JAMES A. DAMON

From Holy Rosary School, Jim was quite active as an underclassman. Jimmy was a Glee Club choraler and Dance Committee member, also a football player. He will take up Engineering at Cornell.

RICHARD M. DEELY

Dick is a splendid example of brains and brawn. For two years he has outstepped opposing track men and has captured medals—all this while maintaining excellent grades. His next stop will be Manhattan and Civil Engineering.

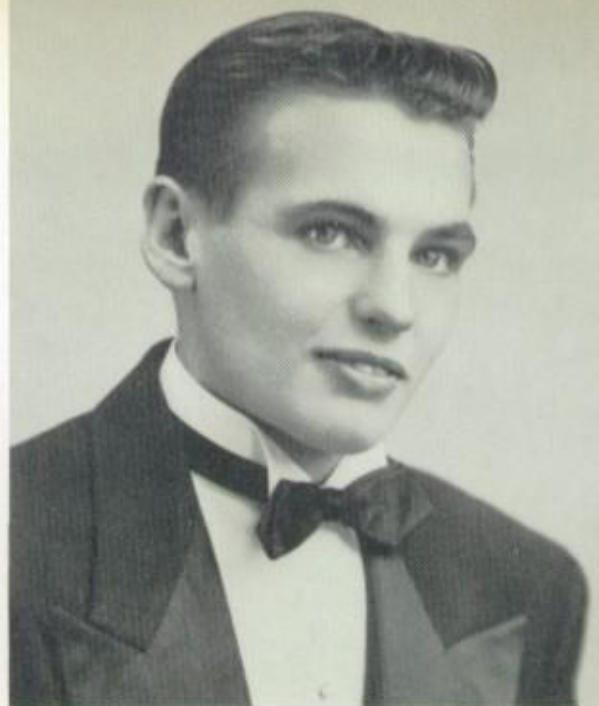

SALVATORE V. DeLUCA

Quick with a smile and always ready with a joke, Sal has proved himself an asset both in the classroom and on the cinder track. Besides his three years on the track team he has also been a staunch supporter of all school activities.

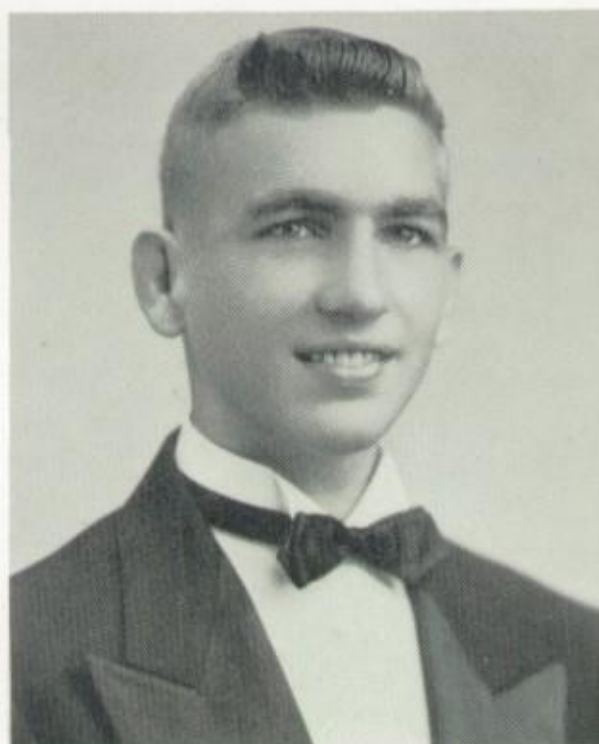

ANTHONY J. DeRUBEIS

A Public School 83 graduate, Tony has proved himself an all-round man. Having been a member of the Track Team, a Dance Committee member and in third year a member of the Blue and White. He intends to go to Fordham and take up Pharmacy.

JOHN J. DOLAN

"Smiling Jack" Dolan, a typical All Hallows' man of many diversified interests, has from his arrival, supported many school activities. A member of the Dance Committee, Jack is set on a Business Administration Course at Iona College. Lots of luck, Jack.

ANDREW J. DOLCE

Powerful Andy, from St. Ann's parochial school, has been a "marble block" in the All Hallows grid line. Also to his credit is his fine playing on the court five. Andy is a cinch to accomplish his goal, Construction Engineering, at Manhattan.

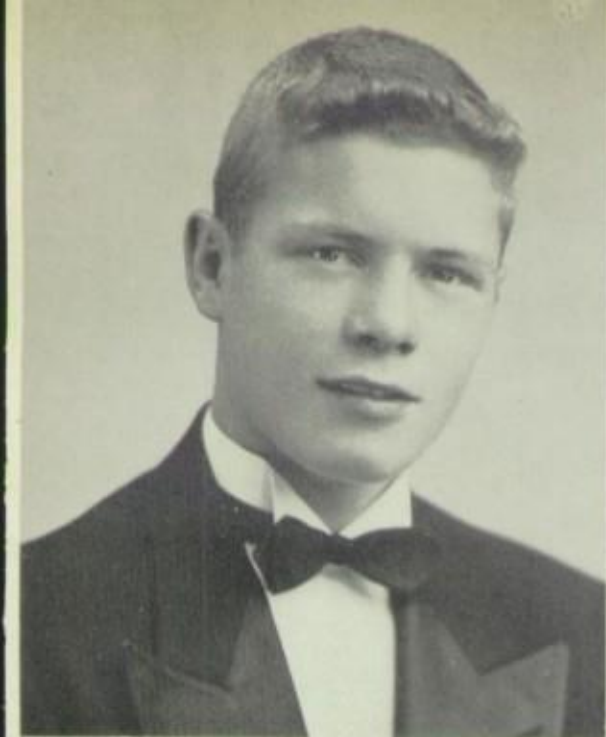

CHARLES E. DONNELLY

Charley, hailing from St. Michael's in Flushing, has been one of the men who have composed the backbone of the track team for the past two years. Charley can be sure of success, because of his winning personality, at Iona where he will major in Business Administration.

JOHN P. DORAN

Johnnie is a twelve year All Hallows man, having spent his grammar school days in All Hallows. His athletic desires have not gone unsatisfied as he has been a hard running track man in his first and fourth years in high school. He plans to enter Iona and take up Journalism.

JOSEPH A. DORRIAN

Joe, since his arrival from St. Francis de Chantal, has truly proved his worth on the playing field. He has played four years of Varsity Football and Baseball, together with two years of J.V. Basketball. Joe intends to take up Pre-Law at Fordham.

PETER T. DUGGAN

Pete has been in All Hallows since the first grade. This versatile student has lent his talents to Debate, Varsity Football, the Dance Committee and was manager of the Basketball and Football teams. He plans to study teaching at Georgetown.

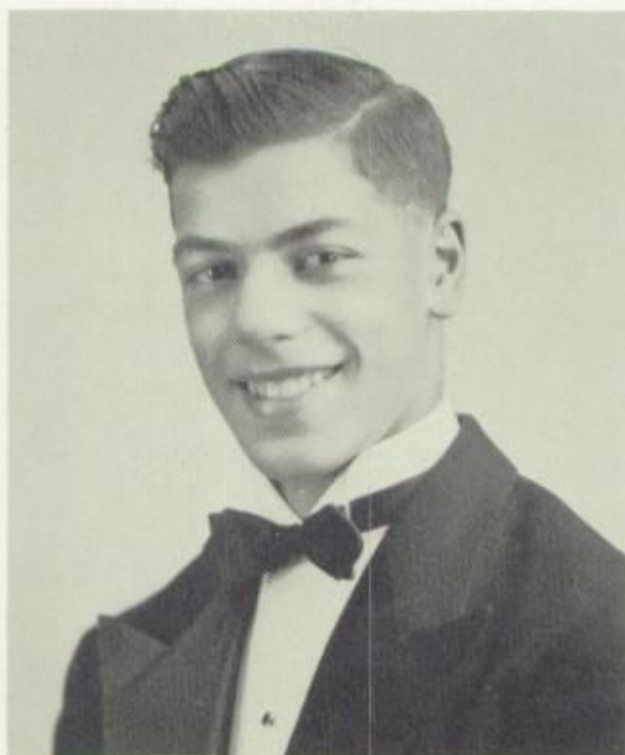

THOMAS G. DURKIN

Tom has shown sagacity and leadership in his stay as the school. He was an honor student for two years, a cheerleader and social activities participant in Senior year. He plans upon a highly technical study of Aircraft Maintenance at Parks College.

EDWARD A. EARLE

Ed is a February entrant from Our Lady of Martyrs. Quiet, attentive, and perserving he has compiled an enviable record. We wish him luck in college—Columbia—where he will study Chemical Engineering.

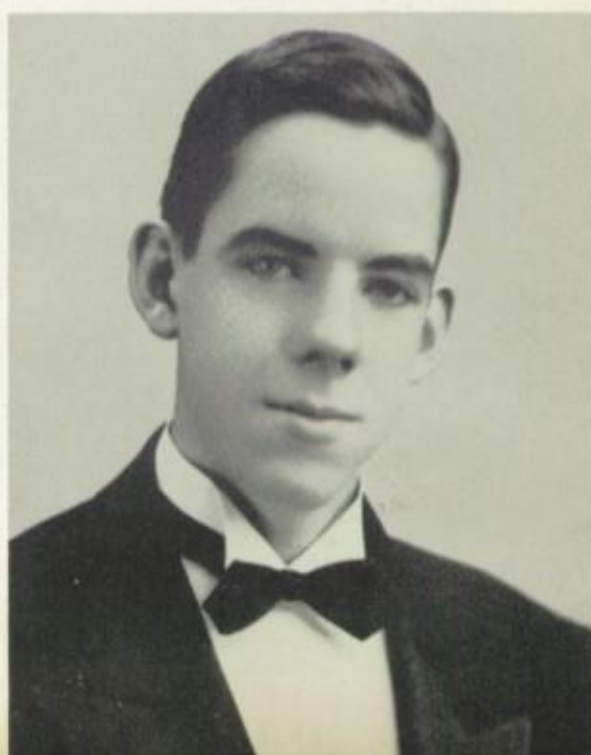

WILLIAM P. ELFERS

That student with a jocund smile—a familiar sight in the classroom—is Bill, who comes to us from St. Gabriel's. He performed with championship form for four years on our basketball club. Bill's interests center on Business at Georgetown.

DONAL E. FARLEY

Don, a four year honor student, hails from St. Michael's, Queens. He intends to take up Engineering at Manhattan. Knowing his likeable personality, we are sure he will have no trouble in his prospective career.

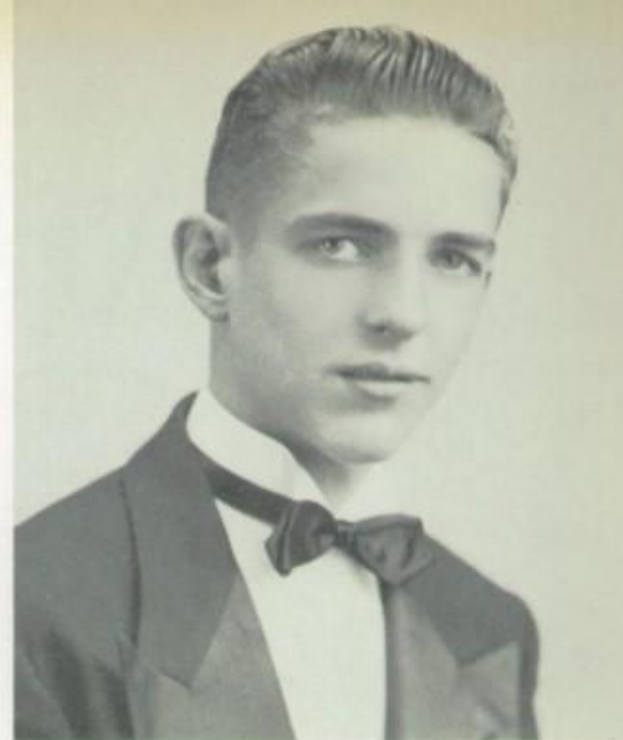

THOMAS P. FARLEY

"Big Tom" calls St. John's his parish, but All Hallows calls him a promising alumnus. He has befriended many and turned away none. With a flare for law, he intends to go to Fordham U.

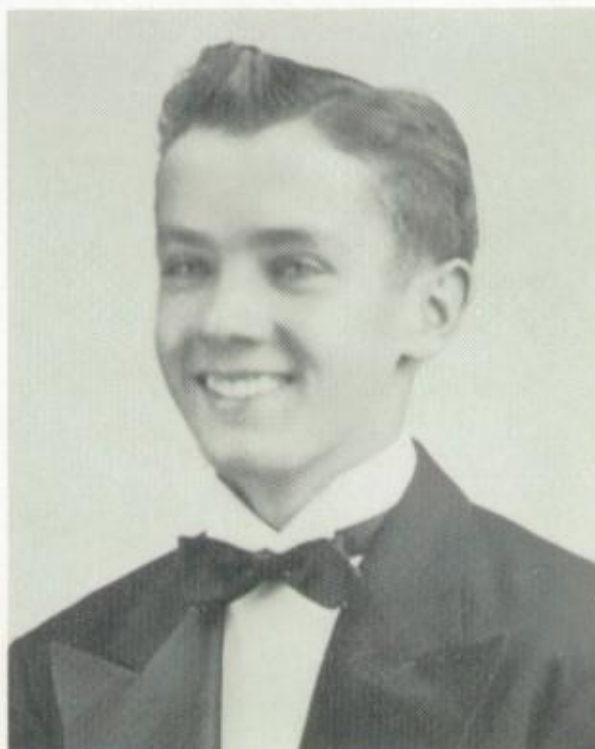

ROBERT E. FEE

When Bob came to All Hallows from Blessed Sacrament, his aims were high. At the end of his high school years, we may proudly say that he has achieved them. Lots of luck to you, Bob, at Manhattan College.

JAMES F. FEENAN

Jim, a man of rhythm, has been a member of the band for four years. Hailing from Sacred Heart Grammar School, he has injected a spirit of fun and friendliness in the too often boring atmosphere surrounding the classroom. Lots of luck, Jim, at Manhattan.

WILLIAM P. FENELON

Bill may proudly say that of a poll of his classmates he was found to be one of the most popular fellows. Since he has excelled in mathematics, Manhattan's Engineering course has been his choice.

ANTHONY H. FERGUSON

Hailing from Our Lady of Angels Tony has been a member of the band for two years, the track team for one year and the Dance Committee during his Senior year. A popular senior, he is sure to be a success while studying Engineering at Manhattan College.

HARRY J. FINK

Harry has been a welcome man from St. Francis Xavier. Although he is a happy-go-lucky fellow, he has never swerved from the hard road of scholarship. Needless to say, Harry can't miss attaining his goal of Engineering at Manhattan.

ROBERT J. FITZGERALD

Al is a contribution of Our Lady of Mercy grammar school. Since he has been here, he has established lifelong friendships. He has lent his talents and work to the Dance Committee and has been responsible for its many successes. He intends to enter Fort Schuyler for Officer's Training.

FRANK A. FITZPATRICK

Frank is a boy, born and bred in New Jersey, who made good in New York. At All Hallows he has distinguished himself for his dexterity in study as well as in sports. Undoubtedly he will succeed at Notre Dame and in his Engineering career.

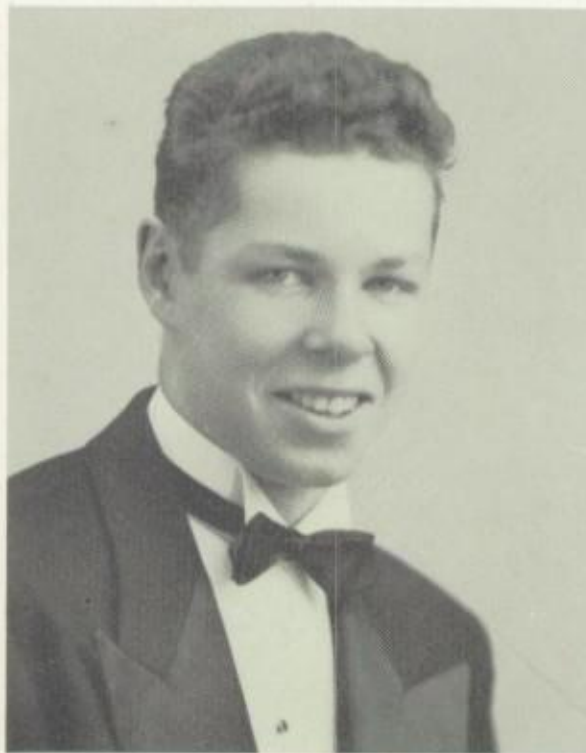

ALBERT A. FLECKENSTEIN

Al who came to us from St. Joseph's has made many friends at All Hallows because of his personality. The best of luck goes to Al in his chosen profession, "Journalism."

THOMAS J. FOGARTY

Tom, a two year honor student, is a product of St. Jerome's. Tom is popular with his classmates. He will do well at Manhattan where he intends to study Engineering.

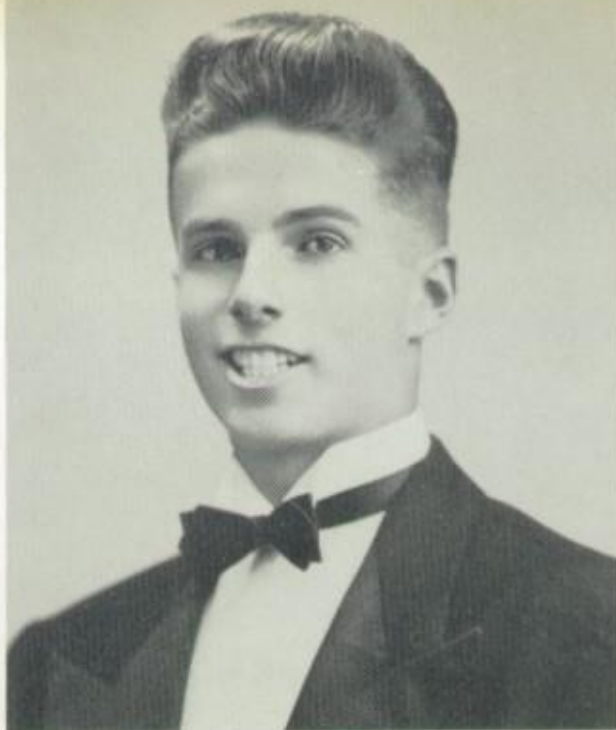

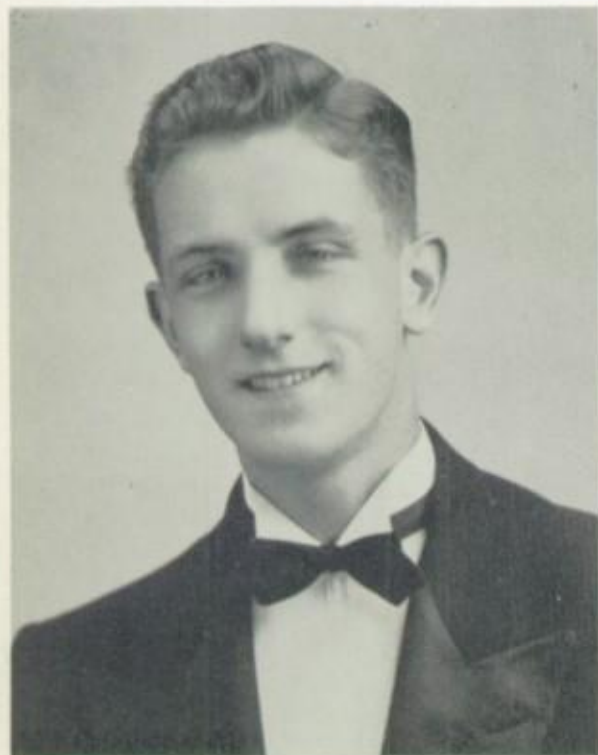

JOHN J. FRAHER

"Young man with a horn" best describes John, who came to All Hallows from St. Rose of Lima. John has played his trumpet in the dance band, concert band, and orchestra, and is also a member of the Dance Committee. John plans to attend Manhattan College and to become a professional musician.

WILLIAM J. FRALEIGH

Immediately upon his arrival here, Bill took up his burden and became a true All Hallow's man of the first class. Of his three years on the gridiron, he played two years as Varsity full-back. Bill aspires to a Business Course at Manhattan.

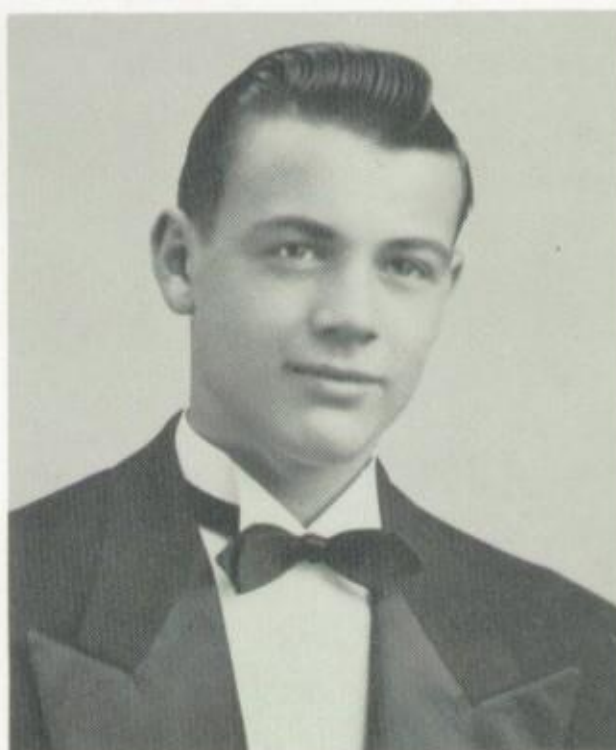

JOHN L. FRANK

Since coming to All Hallows as a February freshman from St. Andrew Avellino, John's voice has added to the success of the Glee Club. His amicable personality is sure to win him success at Fordham where he will study Law.

HERBERT J. FRAZER

A graduate of Madonna parish, Herb was a member of the Track Team for two years. With his good disposition we know he will do well. He plans to attend Cornell University where he will study Agriculture.

RICHARD F. GENNARO

Hailing from St. Benedict's Parish, Rich has long been known as the class wit. He has been a faithful band member for four years. Good luck, Rich, in your career as a Veterinarian.

JAMES J. GLYNN

Jim, a class officer in first year, is best known for his boundless humor and wit. Hailing from St. Angela's Grammar School, he immediately upon entering, proved his ability as a student. A Mathematics course at St. John's is his choice for further education.

RICHARD L. GOLDEN

A fiery cheerleader who has led us in cadence at the Blue and White sporting events, is dashing Dick. Hailing from Good Shepherd, we see great things in store for Dick, what ever his choice in studies.

WILLIAM R. GRIMES

Bill hails from St. Andrew's, Flushing, and during his four years stay has been a member of the Band, Dance Committee, and Latin Society. An honor student, Bill plans to take up a Liberal Arts Course in college. Lots of luck, Bill.

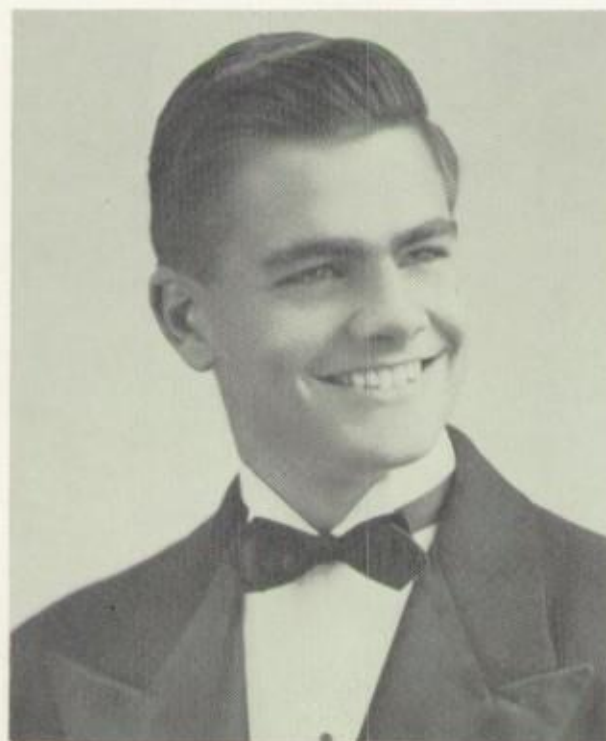

GERALD E. GRIMMEYER

Gerry, Holy Spirit's gift to All Hallows, loaned his fine singing voice to the Glee Club for three years. He was also a member of the Dance Committee in his Senior Year. We are sure he will be a great success at N.Y.U., where he plans to study Journalism.

DAVID A. HAID

Good natured Dave, hails from Immaculate Conception School, played football for two years, was a member of the Glee Club and the Debating Team, and in Senior year was Managing Editor of "Halloween." Dave, a four year honor student and medal winner, is hopeful of attending M.I.T. to develop his knowledge of Mechanical Engineering.

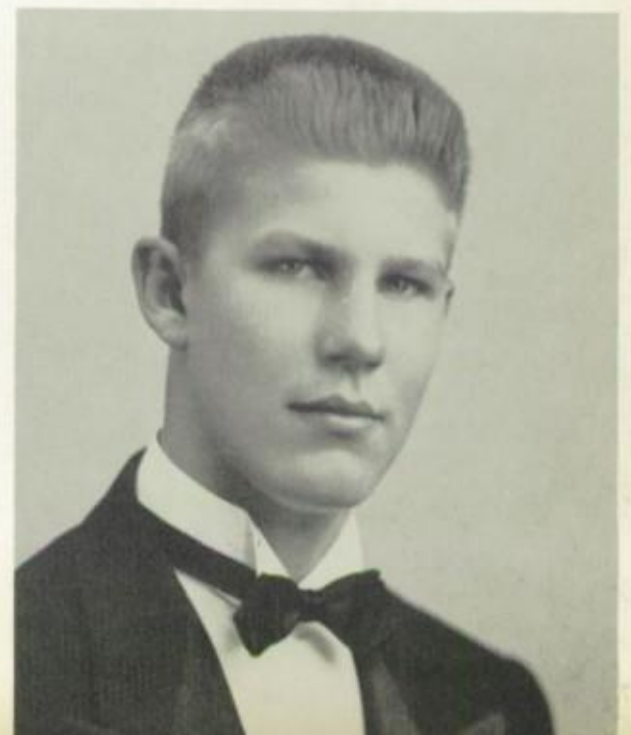

FREDERICK N. HALLIDAY

Fred came to All Hallows from St. Sebastian's grammar School in Queens. He was in the Glee Club in Sophomore year, on the Blue and White staff in Junior year, and on the Varsity Football Team in Senior year. Fred hopes to attend Villanova for a course in Chemical Engineering.

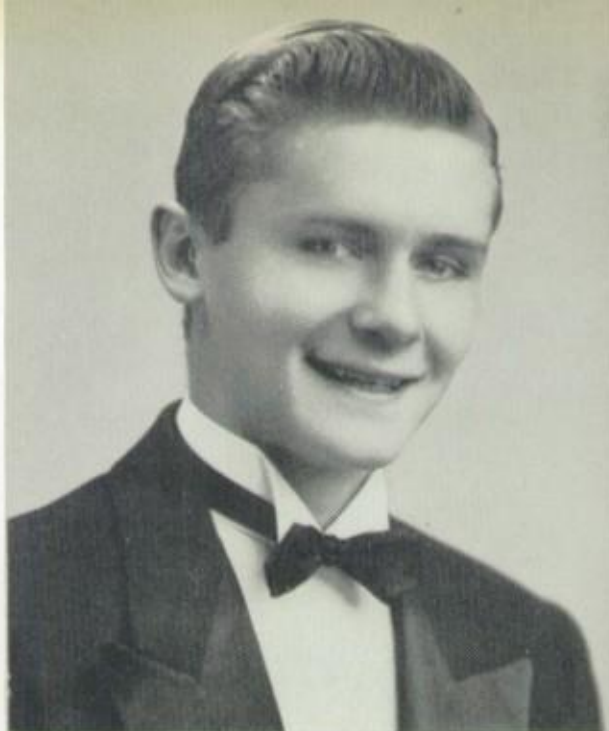

PAUL C. HAMEL

Paul, from St. Andrew's in Flushing, is a good student and athlete. In junior year he was in Debate. At the present time, Paul has picked no specific college.

JAMES J. HANLEY

Arriving as a cautious freshman, Jim has since proved himself a serious and undaunted All Hallows student. He has likewise shown himself to great advantage during his one year on the Track Team. Jim intends to continue his studies at Fordham where he will take a course in Business Administration.

JAMES R. HANLON

One of the numerous Queens men, Jim came from St. Michael's and has since sparkled in the classroom as well as on the baseball diamond. His scintillating wit has brightened many a moment of boredom. Soon he will be heading for the distant University of New Mexico.

JAMES J. HAZLEY

Jim attended grammar school at St. Joseph's Academy. A quiet, amiable fellow, esteemed by all, he has interested himself in school sports, always backing the Blue and White teams. The best wishes of the Senior Class go with Jim in his future years at Manhattan.

JOHN P. HICKEY

Arriving from St. Andrew Avellino in the February Freshman class, Jack immediately became a well known figure. He was a member of the Dance Committee, Senior Track and the Library League. Best of luck in your Business course at Iona, Jack.

GERALD A. HILL

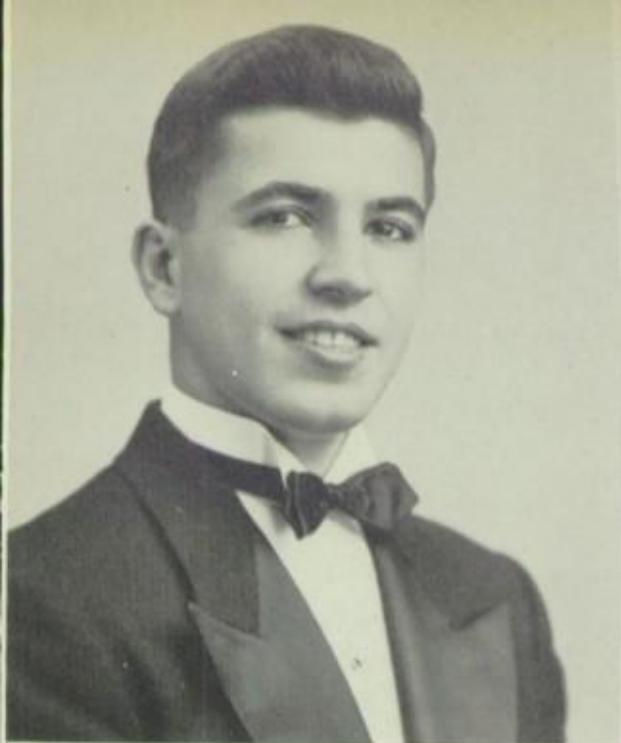

Hailing from Blessed Sacrament in Jackson Heights, Jerry has lived up to the traditions of an All Hallows man. He is sure to succeed at Manhattan where he intends to pursue a course in Engineering.

HENRY H. HIRSCH

Coming from Astoria's St. Joseph's School, Hank has loyally supported all school activities. In athletic competition he has shown excellent form as a track man. Hank plans on Business Administration at Cornell.

PETER P. HOFFMAN

Pete, arriving from St. Angela Merici Grammar School, immediately showed forth his ability as an All Hallows athlete. Four years of football, three years as center on the Varsity and four years years of baseball comprise his enviable record. Pete plans to take up a Liberal Arts course.

EDWIN P. HOLAHAN

Known for his vivacity and personality, Ed, an alumnus of St. Joan of Arc's, came to us as a February Freshman. We know he will succeed at Manhattan in his chosen career of Engineering.

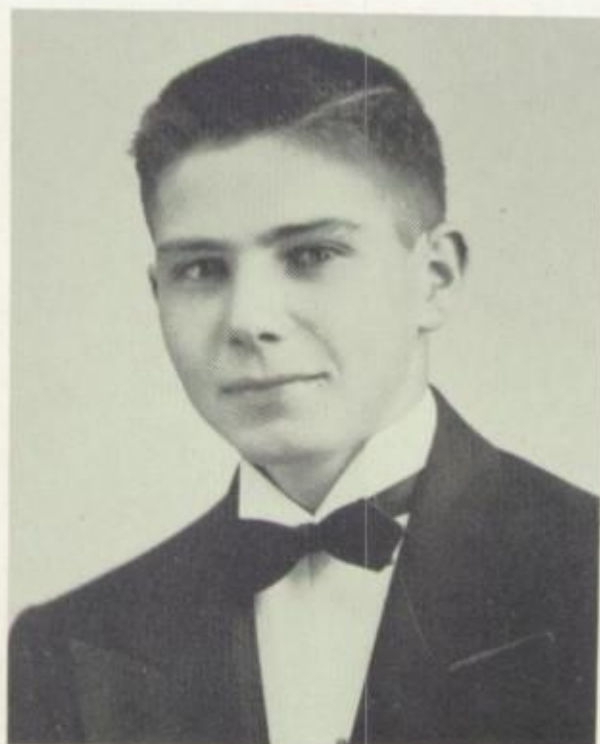

ROBERT H. M. HOMAN

Coming to All Hallows as a February Freshman, Bob has lent his talents to many activities, including the Glee Club, Band, Dance Committee and Sports Editorship of Halloween. On the track team, Bob has also shown exceptional ability. An honor student for four years Bob will do well at Rutgers, studying journalism.

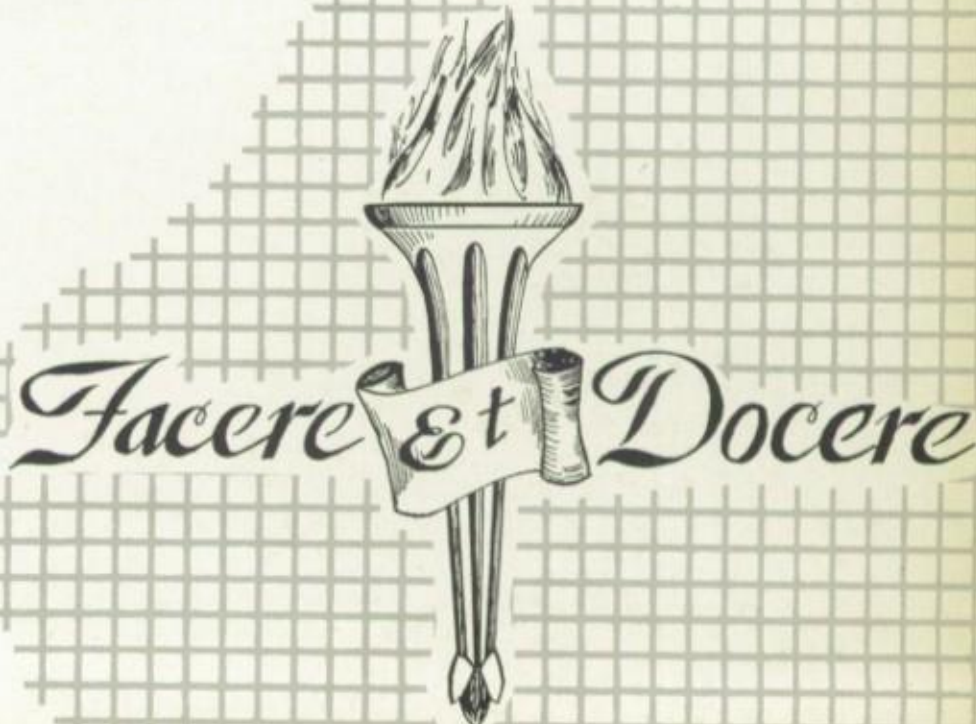

JOHN P. HUNT

Arriving from Our Lady of Mercy, John immediately established himself as a popular student. His personality has helped him achieve success in freshman basketball and the Library League. The best wishes of the senior class accompany John, who will study Business at Fordham.

THOMAS F. JERMYN

A graduate of St. Kevin's in Queens, Tom joined the register as a February Freshman. He made friends fast, and has since held a fairly celebrated post. He intends to go to West Point, and will emerge as an officer.

KEVIN J. KADLEC

After coming to All Hallows from Our Lady of the Assumption, versatile Kev won the General Excellence Medal in Sophomore year, played football for two years, was a member of the Debating Team in Junior year, and was Editor-in-Chief of "Halloween" in Senior year. Good luck to Kev in his chosen field of Civil Engineering.

EDWARD H. KAVANAGH

Ed like many other boys attending All Hallows, is a Holy Trinity Graduate. He has been a steadfast member of the basketball team for four years, two of which were Varsity. Although he has not yet decided upon a college, he intends to take up Business Administration.

JOHN P. KEAN

A graduate of St. Jerome's, John has become quite popular during his four years at All Hallows. During the past two years he has helped to make the A. H. Dances a success. We know he will do well at Columbia studying Naval Science.

JOHN F. KEANE

Having come from Washington Heights, John's personable ways have met with gratitude from all his school chums. He was a "skyscraper" of the Freshman and J. V. basketball teams. John will continue his liberal education at Fordham University.

PATRICK G. KEARNEY

Pat, he of wit fame, came to us from Sacred Heart. A member of the band for one year, and the Library League for two years, he plans to study electrical engineering at Manhattan. Good Luck, Pat.

PATRICK T. KEARNEY

Pat came to All Hallows as a February Freshman. Since then he has shown a rewarding interest in various activities, having been a member of the Glee Club for three years and Dance Committee for one. Pat intends to take up Engineering at Fordham.

WILLIAM E. KEMMETT

Bill's good will and general "know how" have earned him posts of importance. As Chairman of the Dance Committee he has supervised all our socials. A sportsman too, he was on the track team. Iona College will be his new Alma Mater.

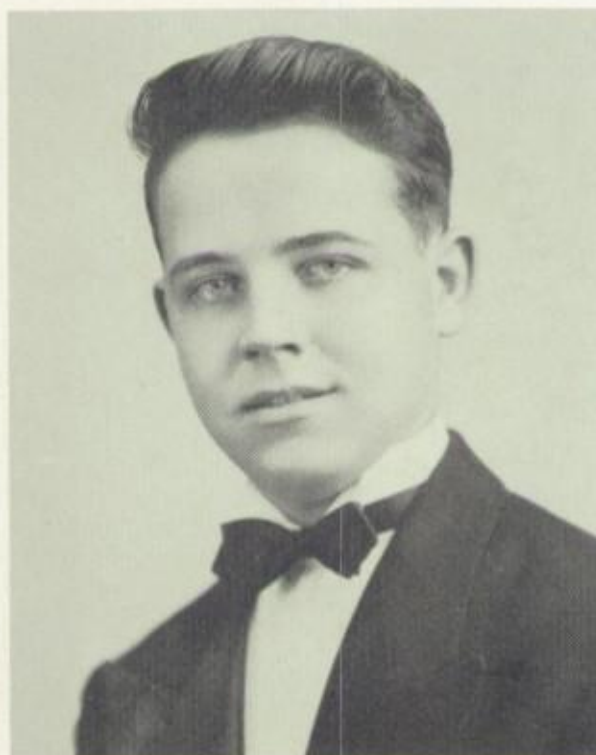

EDWARD C. KENNEDY

Ed, since his arrival at All Hallows in February 1950, has engaged in various activities requiring agility and all-round ability. A member of the Glee Club in second year and the Varsity football team in fourth, Ed intends to take up Engineering at Manhattan.

KEVIN P. KEOUGH

Kev, from Sacred Heart Parish, is of an amicable nature. Also well known to us is his sincerity and sharp humor. Mathematics being Kev's first love, he intends to study Engineering at Manhattan College.

JOSEPH T. KEYES

Joe, a St. Philip Neri graduate, has spent three years in football, one in baseball and has been an able staff member of the Blue and White for three years. He intends to go to Fordham College where he will take up Journalism.

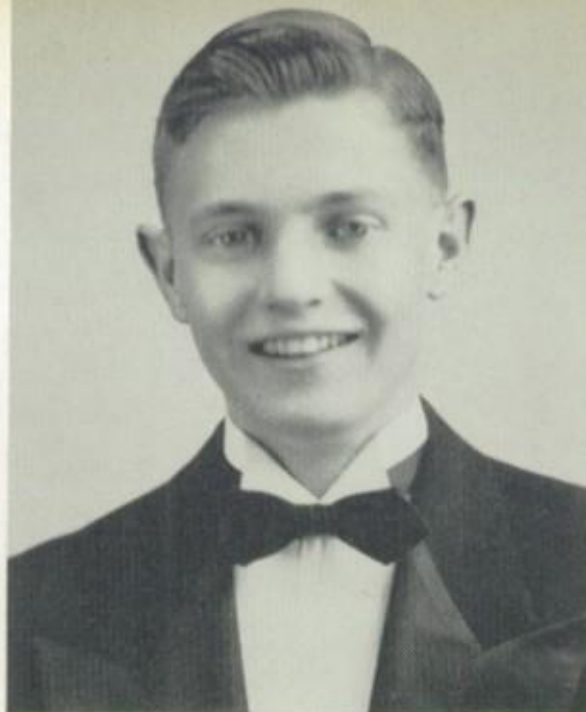

LAWRENCE M. KIERAN

Hailing from Holy Name Grammar School, Larry is best known for his happy disposition. An Honor Student for four years, he will continue his studies at Holy Cross where he will take up Law.

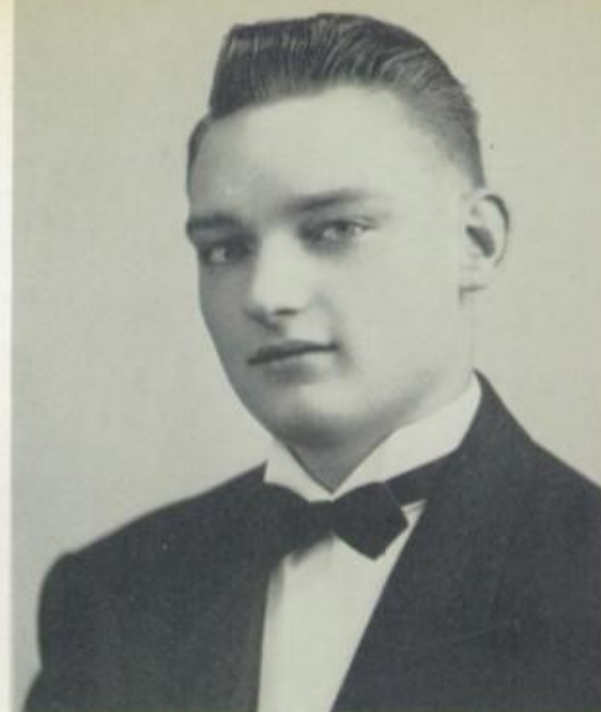

VINCENT P. KINLAN

St. Frances of Rome was Vin's grammar school. A member of the track team for two years, his speed has been praised by many rabid fans. Leaving behind an enviable record at All Hallows, Vin departs for an Engineering course at Manhattan.

THOMAS J. LAMB

Coming to us as a February Freshman in the spring of '50, Tom is well-liked by his fellow classmates. Mechanically-minded, Tom will pursue his education at Manhattan toward a career in the field of Electrical Engineering.

WILLARD D. LAWRENCE

Will, who has an ever-present smile, is a twelve year Gael. His polish has added to both the Orchestra and Dance Band. Our best wishes go with Bill in his college life at Manhattan.

JOSEPH J. LENNON

Joe, who entered All Hallows as a February Freshman, immediately established himself as a daring and ready individual. He has been a member of the Glee Club, and although yet undecided upon a career there is no doubt that Joe will succeed in his future undertakings.

CYRUS A. LoPINTO

Cy, from the first day of his arrival at All Hallows, has been a popular and well-liked student. Having lent his talents to the school Glee Club, he intends to further invest them in a course in Medicine. The Senior Class wishes Cy the best of luck.

BRENDAN J. LYNCH

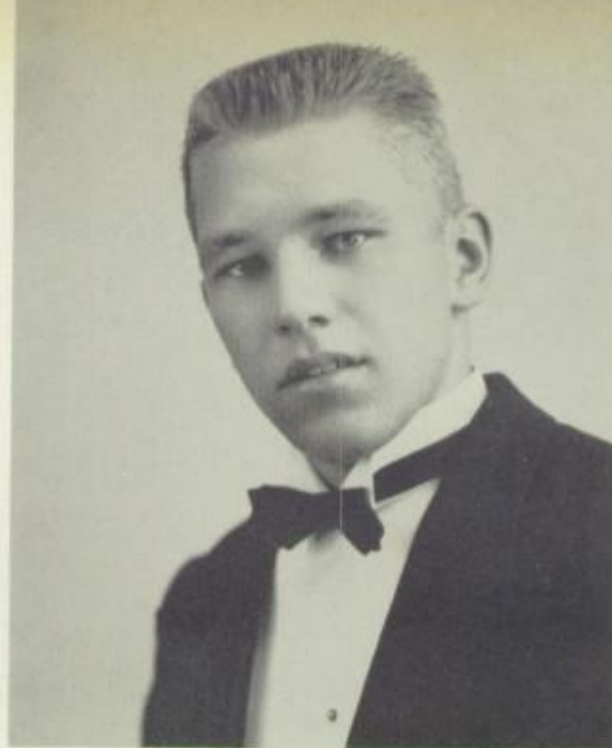

Amiable Brendan, St. Nicholas of Tolentine's gift to All Hallows, was always first and foremost a true school supporter. The Glee Club was his forte, where he held forth as first tenor for three years. The Dance Committee was another of his activities. Good luck to Brendan on the road to success.

DONALD M. LYNCH

Don is a product of St. Gabriel's. He was a member of the track team in second year. He is well liked and our best wishes follow this amicable fellow to Fordham where he plans to study law.

FRANK J. LYONS

Burly Frank, a typical All Hallows' athlete, has played both football and basketball. In his last two years, he has been a mainstay on the Gael's Varsity football team. Friendly and unassuming, he plans to take up Business Administration at Fordham. Best of luck, Frank.

ARTHUR J. McALEER

Art, from Our Lady of Angels' School, is a Bronxite. Comical Artie has been the cynosure of his class in verbal debates. Amicably disposed, he'll do fine at Iona, where Business will be his new concentration.

FRANCIS M. McALEER

St. Jerome's Grammar School certainly gave us a spirited man when they sent Frank to All Hallows. He became a well known figure the moment he first entered the school. Iona is Frank's choice, where he plans to advance in Business Administration.

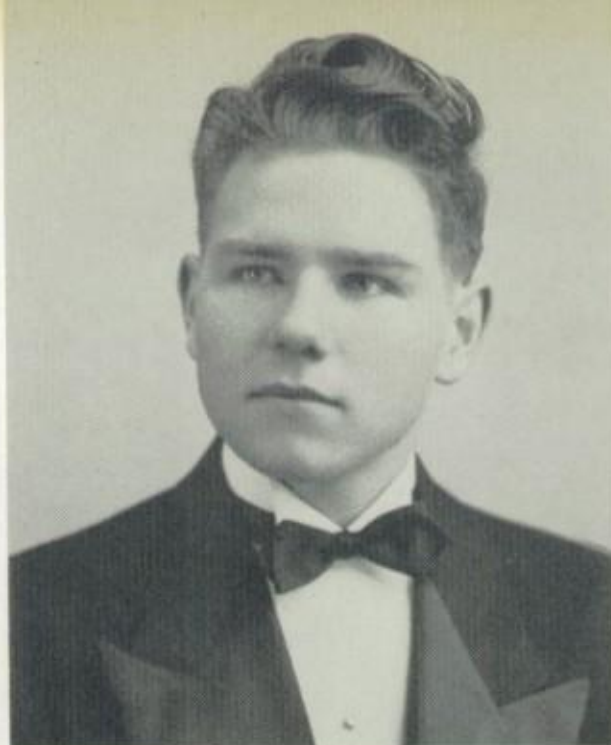

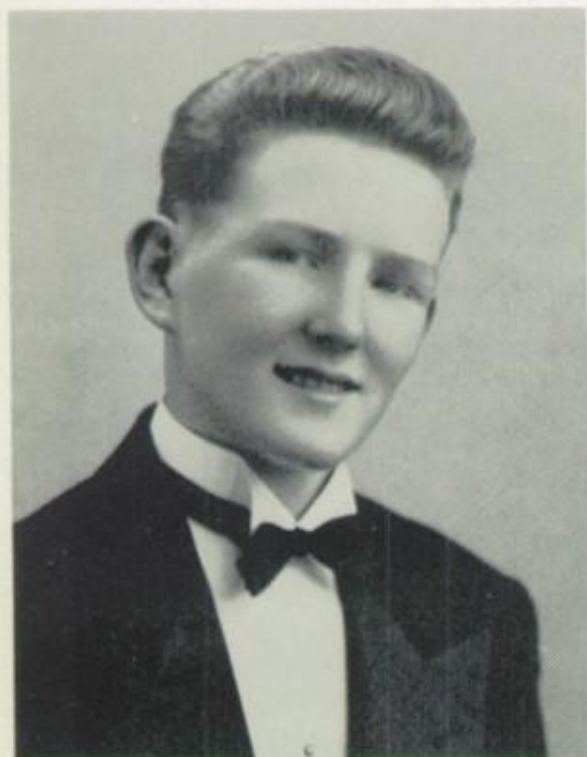

GEORGE P. McAULIFFE

Since his first year at All Hallows, George has been a supporter of the school's many activities. During his four years he has been a member of the Glee Club, and although undecided upon a career, George will surely succeed.

JAMES J. McCARTHY

Jim, after entering All Hallows, immediately stood forth as a student possessing a quiet manner and wit coupled with a genial disposition. Jim intends to take up a Business Course at Iona where we wish him the best of luck.

JOHN P. McCONVILLE

A product of St. Teresa of Lisieux Parish, Sean came to us as an undaunted February Freshman. He served on the Dance Committee in Senior Year and has likewise supported various extra-curricular activities. John intends to take up Marine Engineering at King's Point.

ROGER B. McCORD

Roger came from St. Joan of Arc. A good student and athlete, he was a member of the football team, Latin Society, Library League and a reporter for the Blue and White. Roger intends to follow journalism at Fordham.

JOSEPH P. McCULLAGH

"Whitey" is an alumnus of Our Lady of Refuge, Bronx. Highly talented, he has been an outstanding performer on the gridiron, diamond, and basketball court. He was also a Glee Club member. Best of luck, Joe, at Iona, and in your future career!

THOMAS J. McGEE

Coming to All Hallows from St. Rose of Lima, Tom's friendly personality has made him popular with his fellow graduates. A Cheer Leader, a member of the Library League and Dance Committee, Tom plans to attend Annapolis.

STEPHEN M. McGRATH

Steve came to us from Sacred Heart, High-bridge. Although quiet in class, Steve readily made many friends. He was an able member of the Varsity Football Squad in his senior year. He will attend St. Bonaventure College where we wish him luck in whatever he undertakes.

ROBERT J. McKEON

Bob hails from St. Jerome's. He participated in many activities: the Track Team, Basketball and Glee Club. He intends to take an Arts course, but has not decided which College to attend. We know he will be a success.

JAMES G. McMURRER

Jim, a product of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish, is a well known member of the Senior Class. He has distinguished himself at All Hallows for his many activities; among them the Glee Club and the Dance Committee. After graduation Jim plans to study for the priesthood at the Maryknoll Seminary.

HUGH J. McNALLY

Hugh has been a Gael since he first began school. With him sports have been very popular, since he was on the Freshman Basketball Team and was a durable track man last year. He will study for a B.B.A. at Iona.

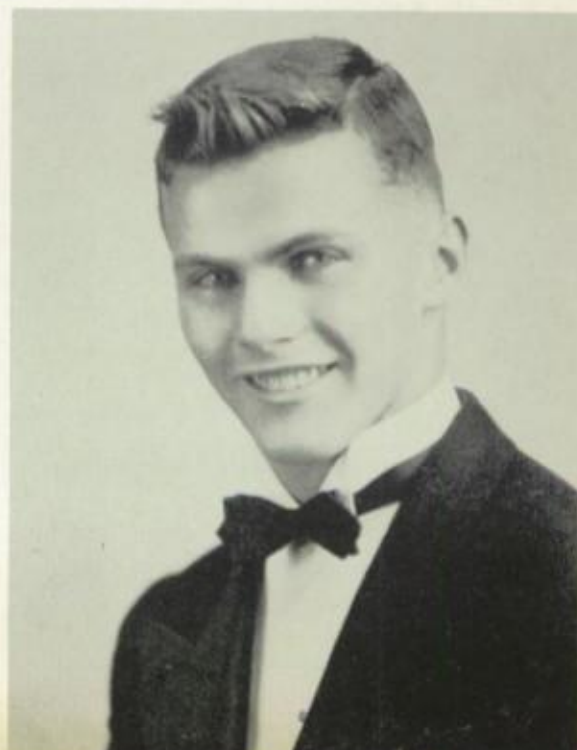

JOHN M. McNAMARA

Big John, a representative of St. Benedict's, will be one of the main reasons for a successful basketball team this year. His four years of experience have already been demonstrated in his past performances. He will attend Fordham College where he will major in Chemistry.

JOSEPH D. McNAMARA

Joe, a product of St. Angela Merici School, is noted for his fine outfielding on the Baseball Team. He has improved with age and in his third season has showed great prowess. Well thought of by all, he will not be forgotten. He plans on Business Administration at Fordham.

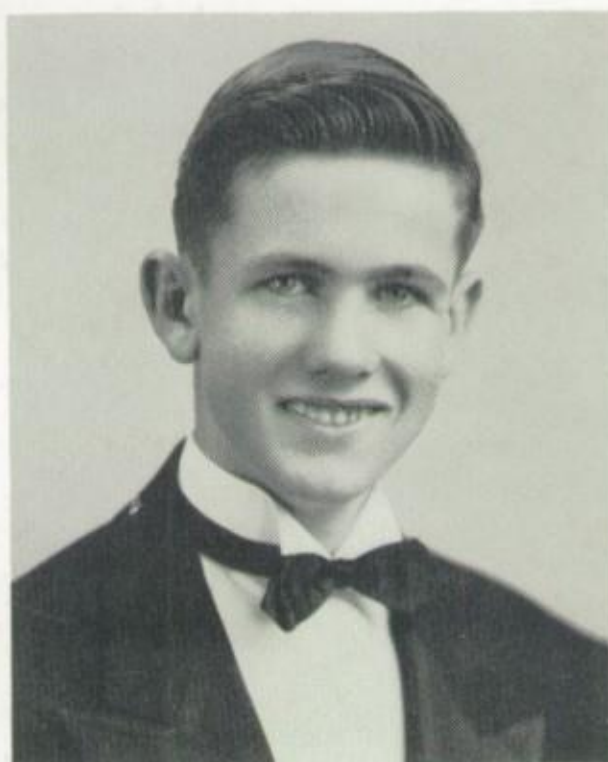

JOHN T. MAHER

A graduate of St. Benedict's, Johnnie has always been popular with his teachers and classmates. John, whose quiet cheerfulness is always fresh and alive, has the wishes of all All Hallows men for the greatest success in Engineering at Manhattan.

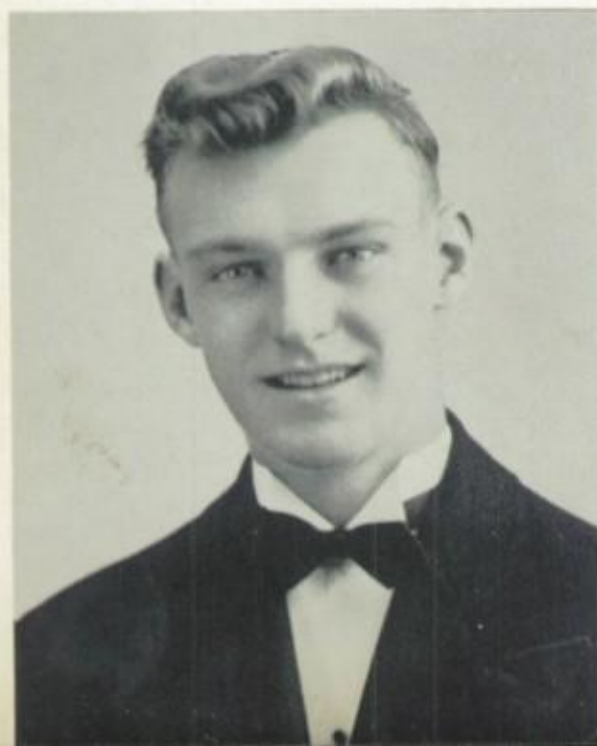

PATRICK MAHER

A February Freshman from Queens, Pat's quiet manner and cheerful Gaelic smile have made a high place for him in the school's functions. Pat is an amateur philatelist. He plans on a career in the United States Navy.

HENRY P. MAIER

Henry spent his Pre-All Hallows days at Public School 14 in the Bronx. He is one of the number of boys coming to All Hallows from St. Benedict's Parish. He will take up Engineering, although he is undecided about the college he will attend.

VINCENT B. MAHON

Vin, an alumnus of Holy Rosary Grammar School, was a member of the Freshman Track Team. He was a Library Leaguer in Sophomore year, and a Glee Club member in Junior and Senior years. Vin plans to attend Manhattan for a course in Business Administration.

DANIEL J. MAHONY

In February, 1950, a boy of extraordinary talents came to us from Immaculate Conception School in Jamaica. A four year honor man and a medal winner, Dan has distinguished himself both for his scholarship and for his work in the Glee Club. He plans a liberal arts education at Fordham.

WALTER L. MARK

Walt, a product of Visitation Grammar School, has added to the success of the J.V. & Varsity Baseball Teams for four years. All wish him success in his Mechanical Engineering course at the University of Michigan.

JOHN J. MARTIN

John, from Our Lady of Lourdes, is a man with plenty of spark. He was a member of the Dance Committee last term. After graduation John is concentrating on continuing his education.

JAMES J. MEENAHAN

Hailing from St. Joan of Arc's, Red has greatly helped the Football Squad playing on both the J. V. and Varsity teams. We are sure Red will be a success at Cooper Union, studying Chemical Engineering.

MARTIN M. MILLER

Since coming to All Hallows from St. Nicholas of Tolentine, as a February Freshman in the spring of '50, "Marty" has always been popular with his classmates. He intends to continue his education at Notre Dame where he is sure to be a success.

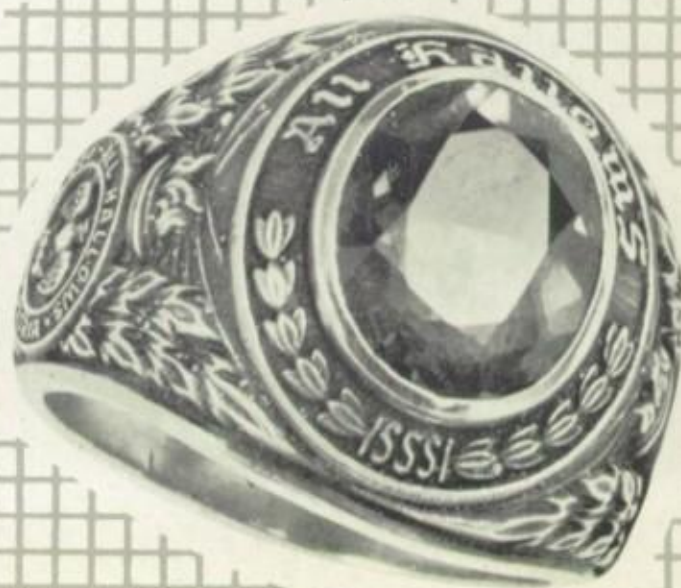

FRANK J. MUHLFELD

Frank has compiled quite a record since the seventh grade at All Hallows. One outstanding achievement is his freshman scholastic medal. As the editor of the newspaper, he has helped to turn out the many interesting copies. He will pursue a science course at Fordham.

DAVID M. MURPHY

An alumnus of St. Anselm, Dave was a member of the Band for three years, the Dance Committee for two years, and on the staff of the Blue and White in his senior year. He will attend Fordham to study Business.

THOMAS P. MURPHY

Tom is one of the many St. Margaret's Alumni who have come to our school. On the Gael Basketball Squad he was a "nifty" ball hawk. Musically inclined, he played in the Parade Band. We expect big things from Tom at the Harvard Law School.

PATRICK W. MURRAY

Pat, an alumnus of Our Lady of Angels, was a bass in the Glee Club for two years. He has been, in Senior year, a member of the Track Team and the Basketball Team, and on the staff of the Blue and White. From here Pat will go to Fordham, where he plans to take a course in Law.

GEORGE F. MUTH

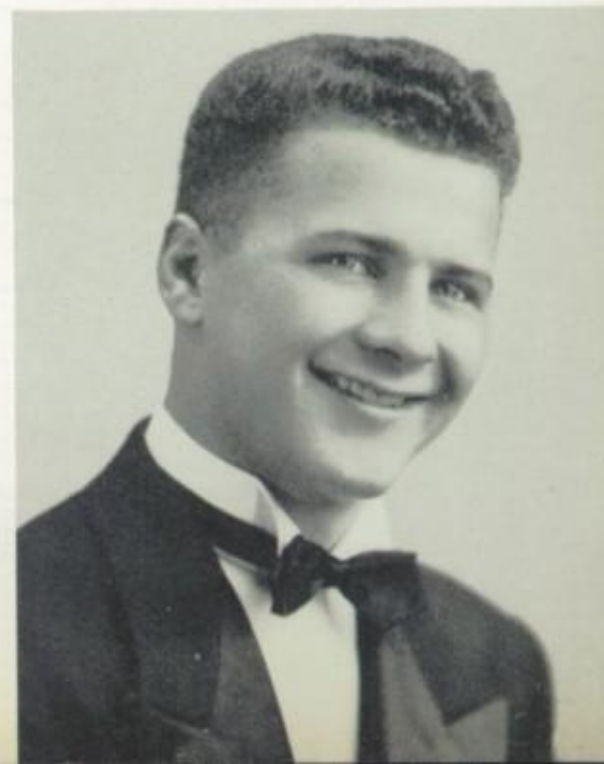

George graduated from St. Peter's in Yonkers. His brawn proved of value to the Football Squad for two years. He was also a dependable Track Man for one year. To finish his education, he plans to enter Manhattan and take a course in Engineering.

ANTHONY F. NIGRO

Since coming to All Hallows as a February Freshman from St. Andrew Avellino, Tony's voice has greatly aided the Glee Club. His perseverance, an outstanding trait, is sure to win him success while studying Electrical Engineering at Manhattan College.

ROBERT E. NOWAK

Bob will long be remembered for his ready wit and mischievous nature. A member of the Library League and J. V. Football Team, he was also a four year honor student. A course in Chemistry at St. John's, is among his plans for a promising future.

WILLIAM J. O'BRIEN

A mainstay on the Varsity Baseball Team for the past two years, Bill came to us from Blessed Sacrament. He was also a member of the Track Team for one year. He plans to study Electrical Engineering at Manhattan College.

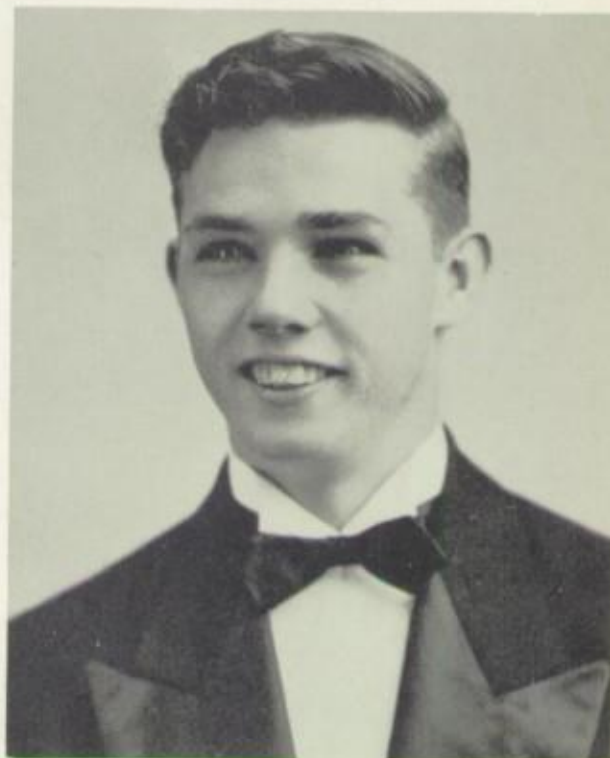

JOHN J. O'CALLAGHAN

As one of the key men sparking All Hallows' teams to victory, John was a member of the J. V. and Varsity Baseball Teams for four years and J. V. and Varsity Football Teams for three years. He also played Varsity Basketball in his senior year. A graduate of St. Michael's, Flushing, John will study Engineering at Manhattan College.

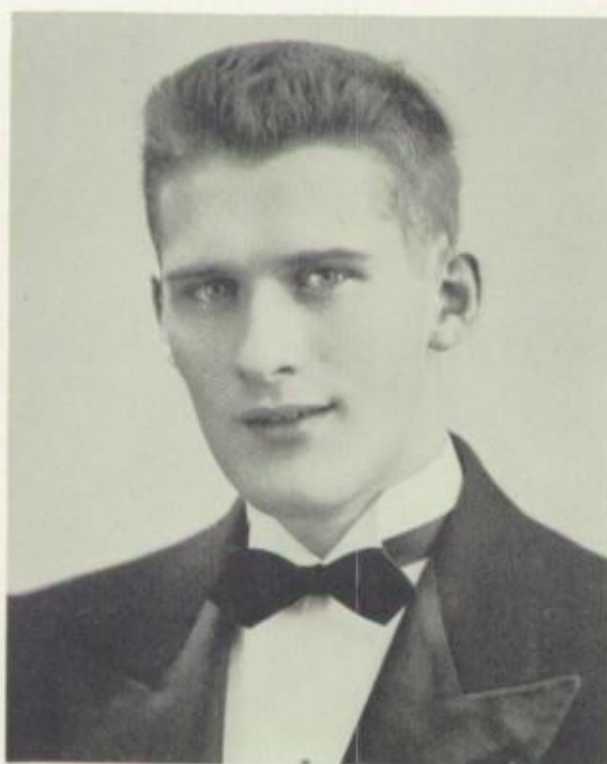

JOHN K. O'FARRELL

John hails from St. Joseph's Grammar School in Manhattan. He was on the J. V. Football Squad in Sophomore year, the Varsity Football Team in Senior year, and the Varsity Baseball Team. John hopes to attend Iona for a Business course.

THOMAS J. O'MALLEY

Tom is a home grown product, having been an All Hallows pupil since his grammar school days. He has written for the Blue and White, and has been a stalwart Band member for four years. For Tom, it looks like political science at Holy Cross.

LAWRENCE E. O'NEIL

An outstanding scholar and a man of Catholic action is Larry. Editor of the C. Y. A. newspaper, the Banner, and aspirant to the Bar, he is rated one of our top debaters. Fordham Law School is his choice.

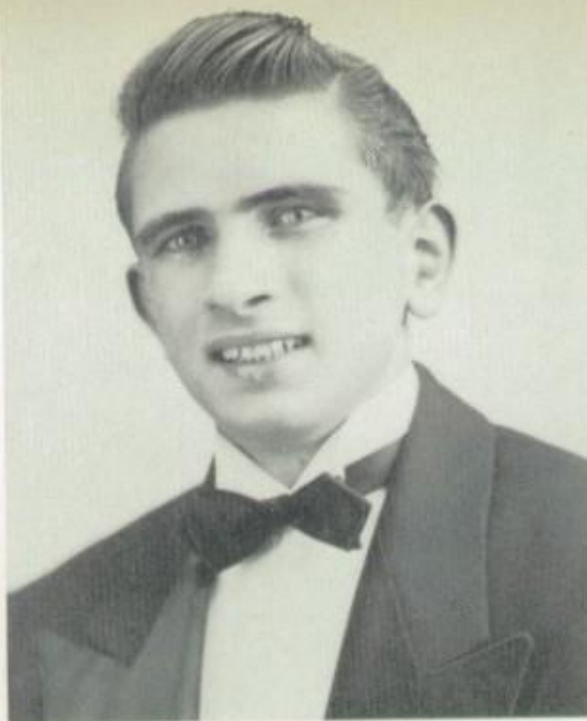

FRANCIS P. O'SHAUGHNESSY

Frank is a progressive man from St. Simon Stock. He has been a source of ideas and action in the Dance Committee. The knowledge he has acquired in All Hallows will make him a hard man to beat in Iona.

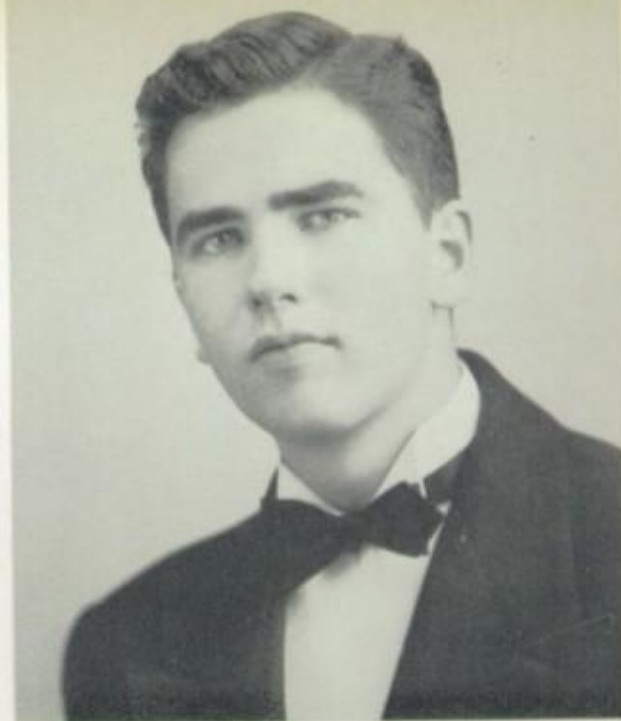

EMMET P. O'SULLIVAN

Emmet hails from St. Joseph's parish. He was a Glee Club member in Sophomore and Junior years. His fine tenor voice has always thrilled Glee Club enthusiasts. Emmet intends to pursue a Business Course at Iona College.

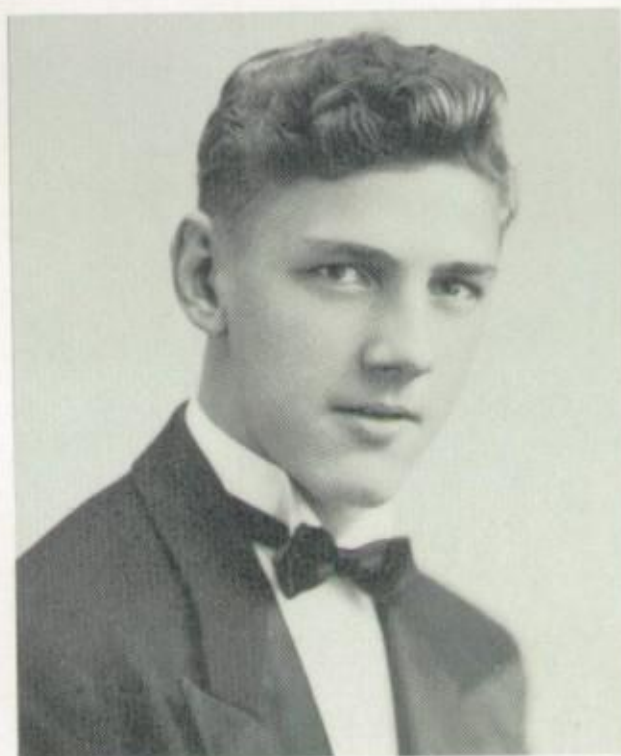

ANTHONY R. PALLADINO

Tony is well-known at All Hallows where he attended both Grammar and High School. He was an ardent worker on the Blue and White. The good wishes of his classmates go with him to Cornell where he will study Agriculture.

DANIEL J. PENDERGAST

When we think of Dan, we shall always remember that big masculine smile. To his classmates it has meant industry, friendship, and loyalty. He has decided to study law at St. John's University.

DANIEL A. PFIEFER

Dan is from Our Lady of Solace, from which he has brought traditions of loyalty and friendship. In the memories of All Hallows men, he will hold a place of esteem. Good luck at Manhattan.

ARTHUR M. PIEDMONTE

Talented Art has for three years been a member of the Glee Club, the strains of his strong bass voice and expert piano playing forming its backbone. Quiet and personable, Art is sure to be a success in his chosen field, Medicine.

ROBERT P. PIOSELLI

Quiet and unassuming, Bob comes to us from St. Mary's Parish. The Glee Club was his principal activity for three years. He plans to attend Syracuse University to major in forestry. Best of luck, Bob.

KEVIN J. QUEALLY

A member of the Baseball Team for two years, Kev is a product of St. Andrews. His voice has also added to the success of the Glee Club. Upon graduation Kev intends to study Engineering at Manhattan.

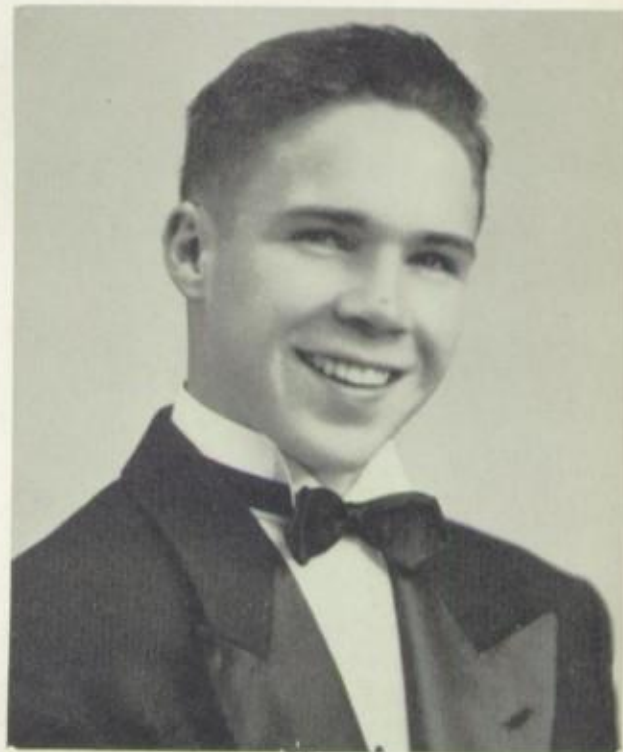

GERALD T. QUIGLEY

Gerry's admirable talents have been achieved through constant application of his faculties. As a crooner, he has excelled in Glee Club work. Good luck to Gerry, who will take a Liberal Arts course at Fordham.

JOSEPH P. QUIRK

Joe is a St. Andrews man from Flushing, with a hearty handshake to match his smile. Since second year he has been a talented performer in our Glee Club. A good student he should meet with success at Iona's Business School.

JAMES V. REGAN

Jimmy, with a combination of intelligence and personality equaled by few, has demonstrated the education received at St. Andrew Avellino by his being a four year honor student here at All Hallows. We know he will succeed at Manhattan College where he will take up Electrical Engineering.

JAMES N. RICHARDS

Attending All Hallows for twelve years, Jim has proved his ability to play the Trumpet, by being a four year member of the Concert and Swing Bands. Combined with this and many other talents he is sure to succeed at Manhattan where he will study Electrical Engineering.

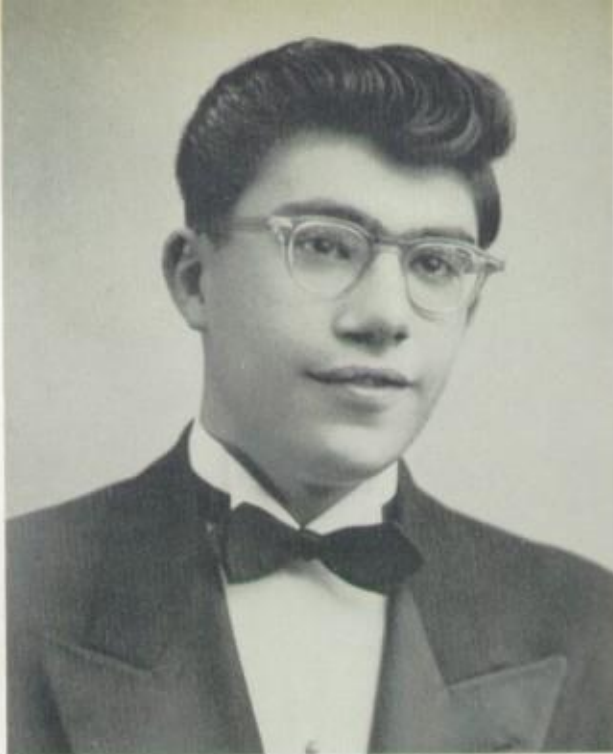

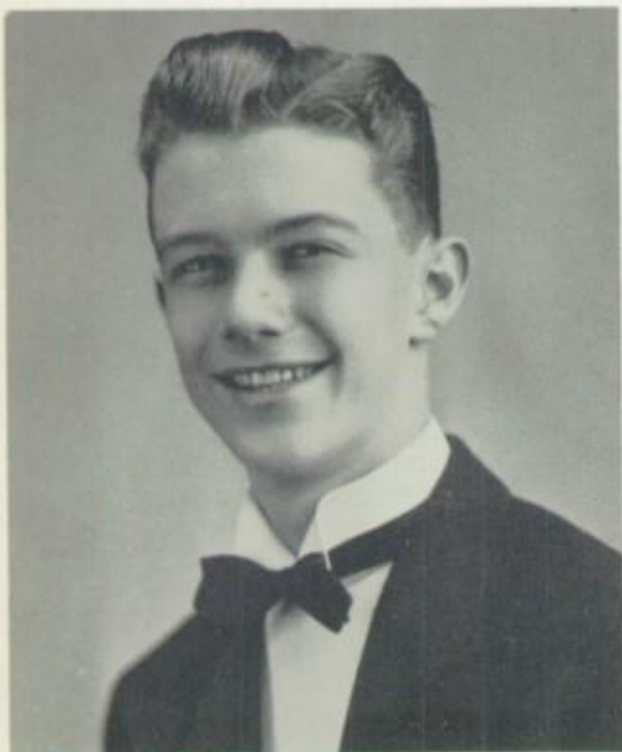

Facere et Docere

PAUL E. RINGDALE

A product of the All Hallows Grammar School, Paul has added his fine bass voice to the Glee Club for three years. He has been a member of the Debating Society and the Latin Society in senior year. We wish him the best of luck in whatever field he may choose.

SEBASTIAN J. RODRIGUEZ

Sibi is an alumnus of Incarnation Grammar School. He was a member of the Glee Club in sophomore year and the Latin Society in senior year. Sibi hopes to study medicine at Georgetown University. We wish him the best of luck.

CARL F. ROSSINI

A graduate of St. Gabriel's Grammar School Carl's years in All Hallows have been busy. He was two years on the Track Team, three years in the Glee Club, and a member of the Dance Committee in senior year. He intends to study Science at Columbia.

VINCENT J. RUANE

Vin came to All Hallows from Our Lady of Refuge Grammar School. He has been a four year honor student, medal winner, member of the Glee Club, and president of the Debating Team in senior year. Vin plans a course in Civil Engineering at Manhattan College.

PETER F. RYAN

Coming to us from St. Andrew Avellino as a February Freshman, Pete has contributed much to the Band. He has also been a member of the Track Team and Glee Club. In the future, Pete intends to take a Business course at Georgetown Foreign Service School.

WILLIAM J. RYAN

St. Francis of Rome has again given us an outstanding athlete. Bill for four years has sparked the attack of the Baseball Gaels with his big curve ball. With his earnestness of purpose, he will hit high on the list of All Hallows Alumni.

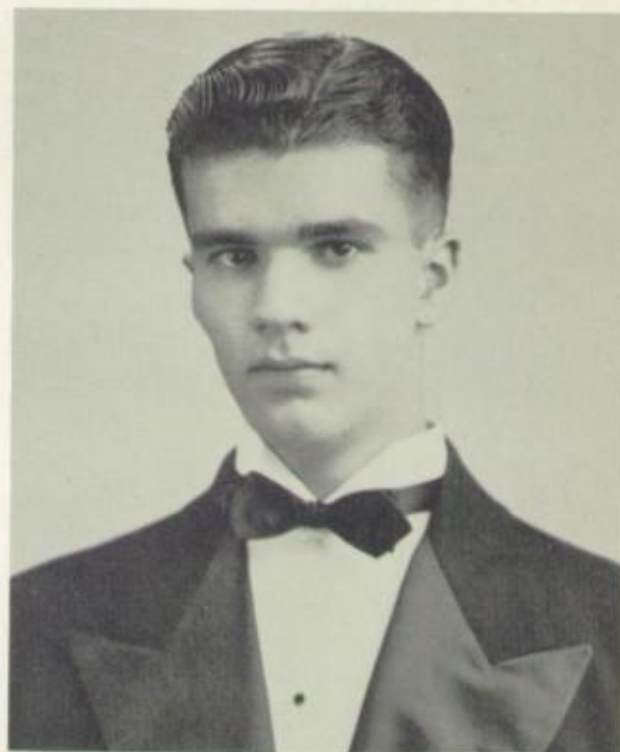

JOHN G. SAPIENZA

John has been in All Hallows since first grade grammar school. His friendly manner has made him well liked by all. The best wishes of the Senior class go to John who is undecided as to his career.

ROBERT P. SCAGNETTI

A graduate of St. Anastasia in Teaneck, New Jersey, Bob has been influential in the school's extra-curricular activities. His warm manner will continue to win him friends through out life. At the moment Bob is undecided upon a college.

STEPHEN J. SCHILDWACHTER

Big Steve, a versatile All Hallows' man, hailing from St. Barnabas' Grammar School, has been a member of the Track Team, Latin Society, and C.Y.A. Organization. An industrious student, he plans to take up Business Administration. Good luck in the future, Steve.

WILLIAM F. SECOR

Since entering All Hallows twelve years ago, Bill's spirit has always brightened the class rooms and corridors. His talents have lent themselves to the Band for three years, the Cross-Country Track Team for two years and the Blue and White in his Senior year. He will attend Manhattan to study Engineering.

DONALD W. SMITH

Don has been an All Hallows man since grammar school. He has been a four year member of the Band, with two years as its leader. He was a member of both the freshman and J. V. Basketball Teams. He was also a member of the Varsity Baseball Squad. Don intends to pursue a course in Business Administration at St. Michael's College in Vermont.

JOHN M. SMITH

A St. Simon Stock alumnus, John has been an active member in his four years at the school. Personality, plus his scientific acumen, should make him an excellent pharmacist. Fordham is his chosen school.

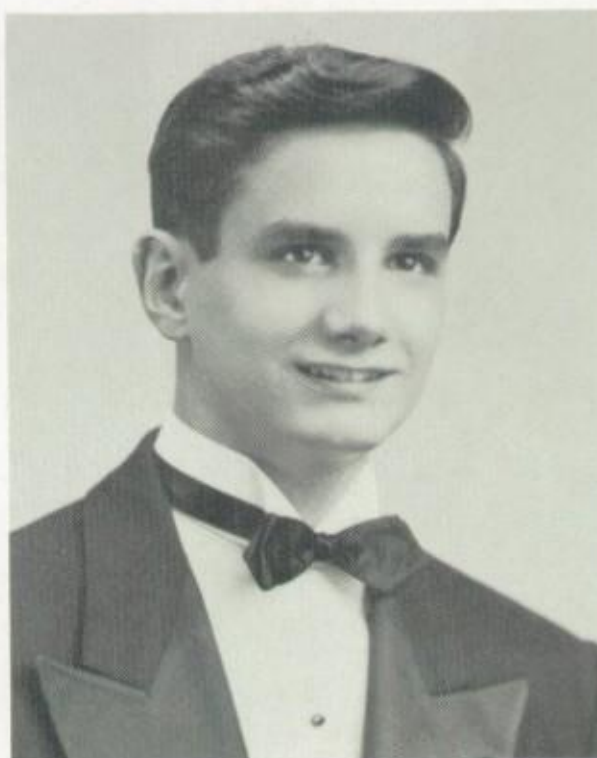

RONALD R. STABILE

Ronnie, who is another New Jersey alumnus, is well known for his swingy clarinet renditions at the senior dances. His musical reputation has spread and has pleased all his classmates. However, his real ambition is to study Civil Engineering at Manhattan.

RONALD J. STROMMER

Coming from St. Angela's Parish, Ron has distinguished himself at All Hallows as an athlete, playing both Varsity Baseball and Basketball. He was also a member of the Glee Club for two years. He plans to work for a B. A. degree at Fordham.

ALFRED J. TALLEY

Al, one of the famous Talley twins, has lent his talents to many activities since coming to All Hallows, among them: the Library League, the Blue and White, and the school play, "Not Quite Awake". Though undecided on a career, he is sure to succeed in whatever field he chooses.

JOHN J. TALLEY

A serious gentleman is John, very much like his brother Al. However, he enjoys a good laugh. Activities wise, John has held significant offices in the Library League. He has not yet picked a college, but we are sure his choice will be a good one.

THOMAS P. TAUGHRAN

Tom came to All Hallows from St. Jerome's, well stocked with knowledge and fortitude. Each year under the brothers, he has developed into a man of fine character. Every classmate wishes him the best in his course in Business at Iona.

FRANK R. TERRANOVA

Known for his quick wit, "Curly" is the true example of school spirit, being a member of the Band for four years, Track three years and the Blue and White one year. He is certain to be a success studying Pre-Medicine at Fordham.

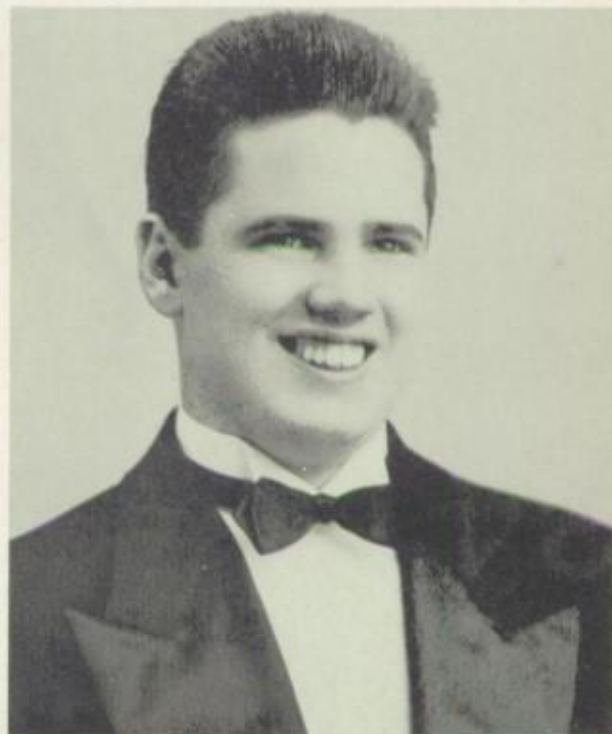

JAMES M. THOMPSON

Good-natured Jim is a product of Sacred Heart Parish. The Glee Club was his main interest at All Hallows, he having been a member for three years. Our best wishes follow Jim in his study of Electrical Engineering at Manhattan.

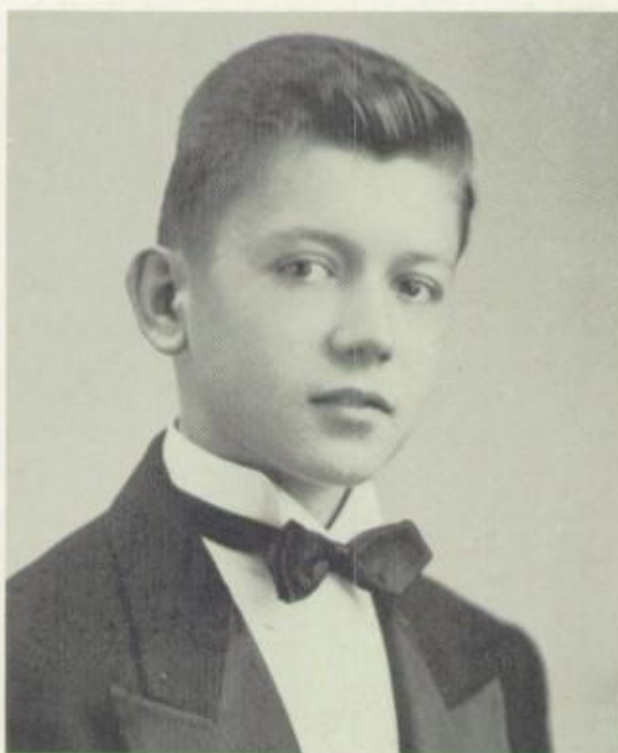

JOSEPH J. TYRRELL

Joe has carried the banner of St. Margaret's Parish through all his high school courses. Joe's cordiality has made its mark on those with whom he has come into contact. He hopes to attain a Business Degree at Fordham.

JOHN J. UHRAN

Honor Roll student for four years, member of the Dance Committee, Activities Editor of "Halloween", and flashy clarinetist in the All Hallows Band, Johnnie is a representative of Flushing's St. Michael's School. After high school he plans an Engineer career at Manhattan.

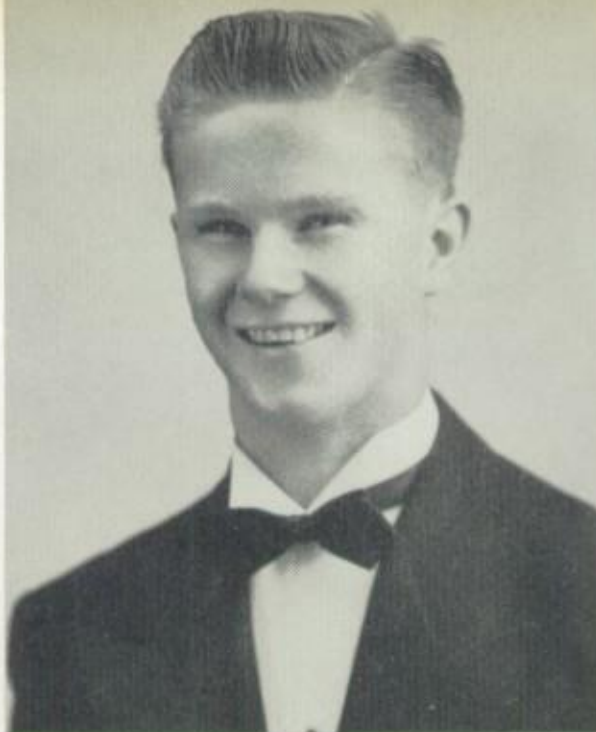

PATRICK W. VAUGHAN

St. Michael's of Flushing has given us Pat, a four year honor student and a member of the Band for two years. He was also a member of the Debating Team. Pat plans to study Engineering at Stevens.

WILLIAM H. WAHL

"Willy" came to us after having spent many years in Central America. Besides winning many life long friends with his jovial manner, this Senior has scored high in all his classes. He will study Chemical Engineering at Colorado School of Mines.

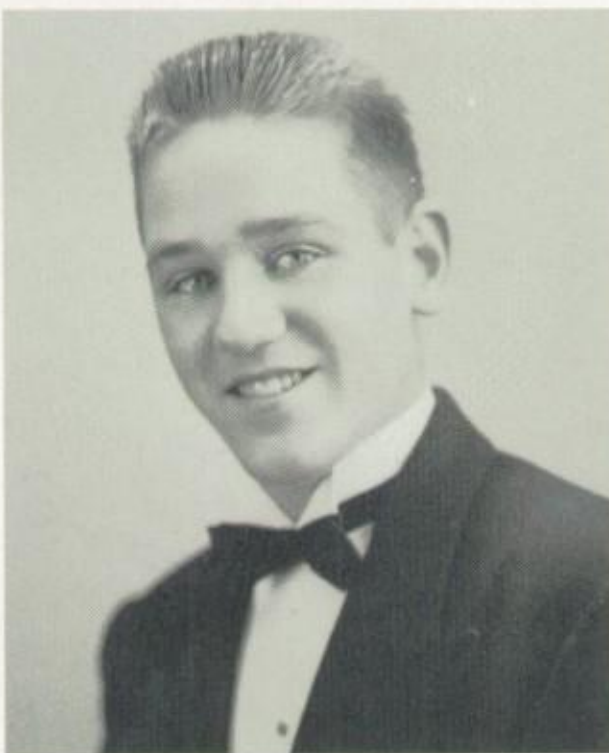

JOHN F. WALSH

John hails from Sacred Heart. He was a four year honor student, medal winner for two years and a member of the Track Team. He intends to take an Arts course at Fordham. This amicable fellow is bound to succeed.

JOHN H. WARD

Whitey is an alumnus of the All Hallows Grammar School. His quiet and friendly manner has made him well liked by all. Whitey hopes to study Business Administration at Manhattan.

WILLIAM L. WARD

In all his six years at All Hallows, Bill has been known for his exceptional personality. His athletic skill has bolstered the Basketball Team for four years. Also a member of the Band, Glee Club and Dance Committee, Bill hopes to take a Pre-Dentistry course at Villanova.

JOHN P. WEIR

John is another man who has spent twelve years of his active life in the All Hallows Grammar and High School. A four year Football Man and two year Baseball Player, he has shown his athletic tendencies. John has also lent his powerful bass voice to the Glee Club for two years.

RODNEY S. WEST

Our Lady of Lourdes is Rod's home parish. In the past four years both the Track and the Football Teams have come under his capable and directing influence. After graduation, Rod intends to prepare for Engineering at City College.

CARL A. WOLF

Carl, a popular and jovial leader, has distinguished himself in the Glee Club for four years. He has also contributed to the school paper and the Dance Committee. An adequate scholar, he should succeed at Manhattan College.

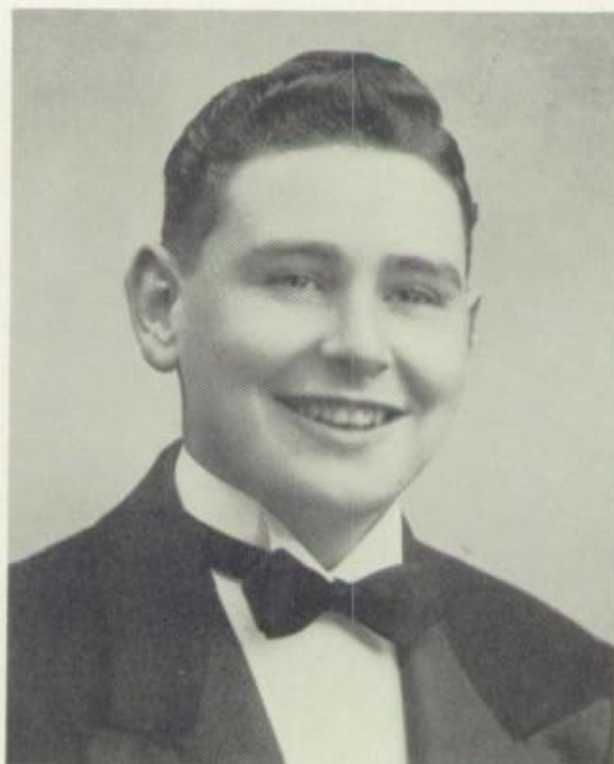

ROBERT J. ZETENA

Popular and well-liked Bob is a true All Hallows man, having attended Grammar School here. Our best wishes follow Bob in his chosen field of Engineering, which he will take up at Manhattan.

ANDREW M. FAUGHNAN

Andy, a student possessing an unpredictable but still versatile nature, has truly proved himself a boon to All Hallows' senior class. A four year band member and activities supporter, Andy is sure to use his winning personality to great advantage in years to come.

Rome

At the beginning of the present century, a cunningly devised system of proselytism was put into operation in the schools in Rome. The hierarchy, sensing its sinister purpose, requested the establishment of a Community of Brothers in the Eternal City. Within a few years of its founding, so great was the exodus to our school that the "mission schools" were closed. The Brothers' conduct Evening Classes for business men, and in addition, a Day College having in attendance over 800 students and enjoying the privileges of a Government Public School. Successive Popes have taken a keen interest in the work and have frequently extolled it by letter.

Gibraltar

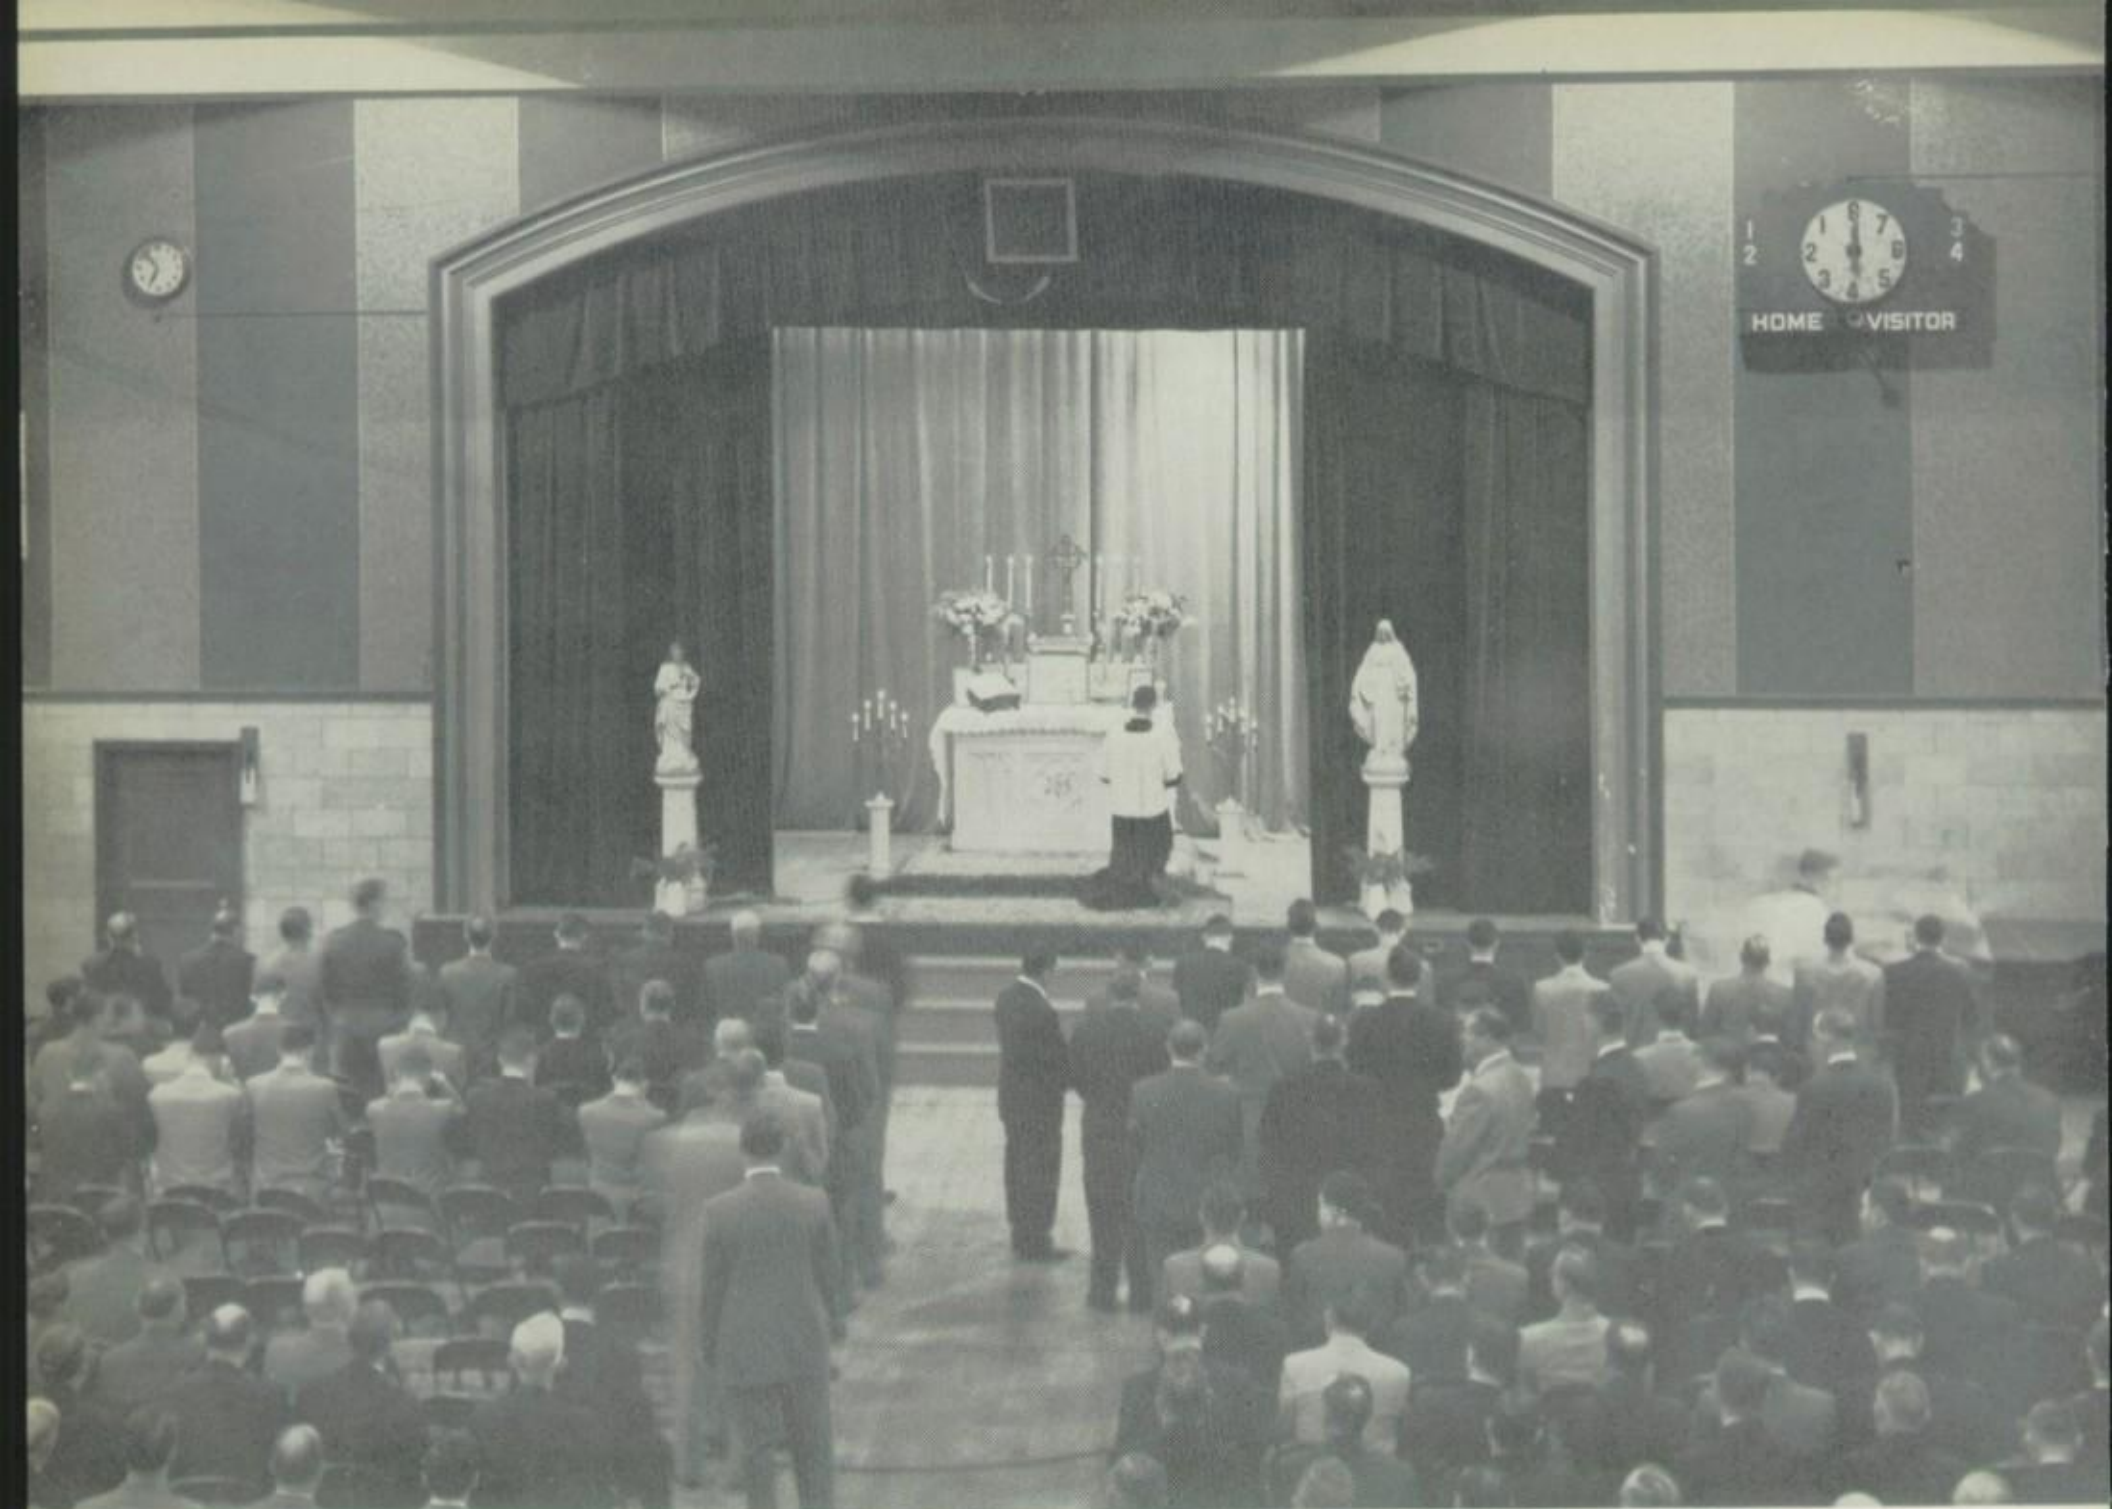

The first group of Brothers arrived in Gibraltar in 1835, but because of intolerable secular interference, retired in 1837. Again in 1878 the Brothers returned to the "Rock" to resume their work, the power of the secular Junta having disappeared. Thenceforth, the work of the Brothers was to progress smoothly until 1939. Soon there were four establishments with an enrollment of over 1500 pupils.

World War II brought its terror, Gibraltar being attacked by the Germans. Wisely the Government decided to evacuate women and children to Tangier and other places, the Brother doing their best to attend to the schooling of the evacuees. Reopening in 1945, the schools continued to be staffed by the Brothers, but are now under Government control.

Holy Communion at Fathers' Annual Mass.

Religion

A word of caution.

Each year, All Hallows is privileged to hear talks from members of various religious orders who remind us of the need of laborers in God's vineyard. Although many of the representatives are the same as the preceding year, the talks are met with enthusiasm by all.

In these days when the red tide of atheistic Communism is sweeping across the free world, the importance of prayer seemingly need not be stressed. The duty of the speakers at All Hallows is not only to remind the boys of this terrible need for prayer, but to stress the need for religious in the world today.

The zeal of these religious representatives in bringing converts into the fold is manifested in the self-sacrificing manner they make themselves available to us during the three days of freedom from school routine, the Retreat.

It is, therefore, with gratitude that we ask the blessings of God on the holy work of these unselfish men. Let us strive to comply faithfully with active participation in the call to duty as a true follower of Jesus Christ.

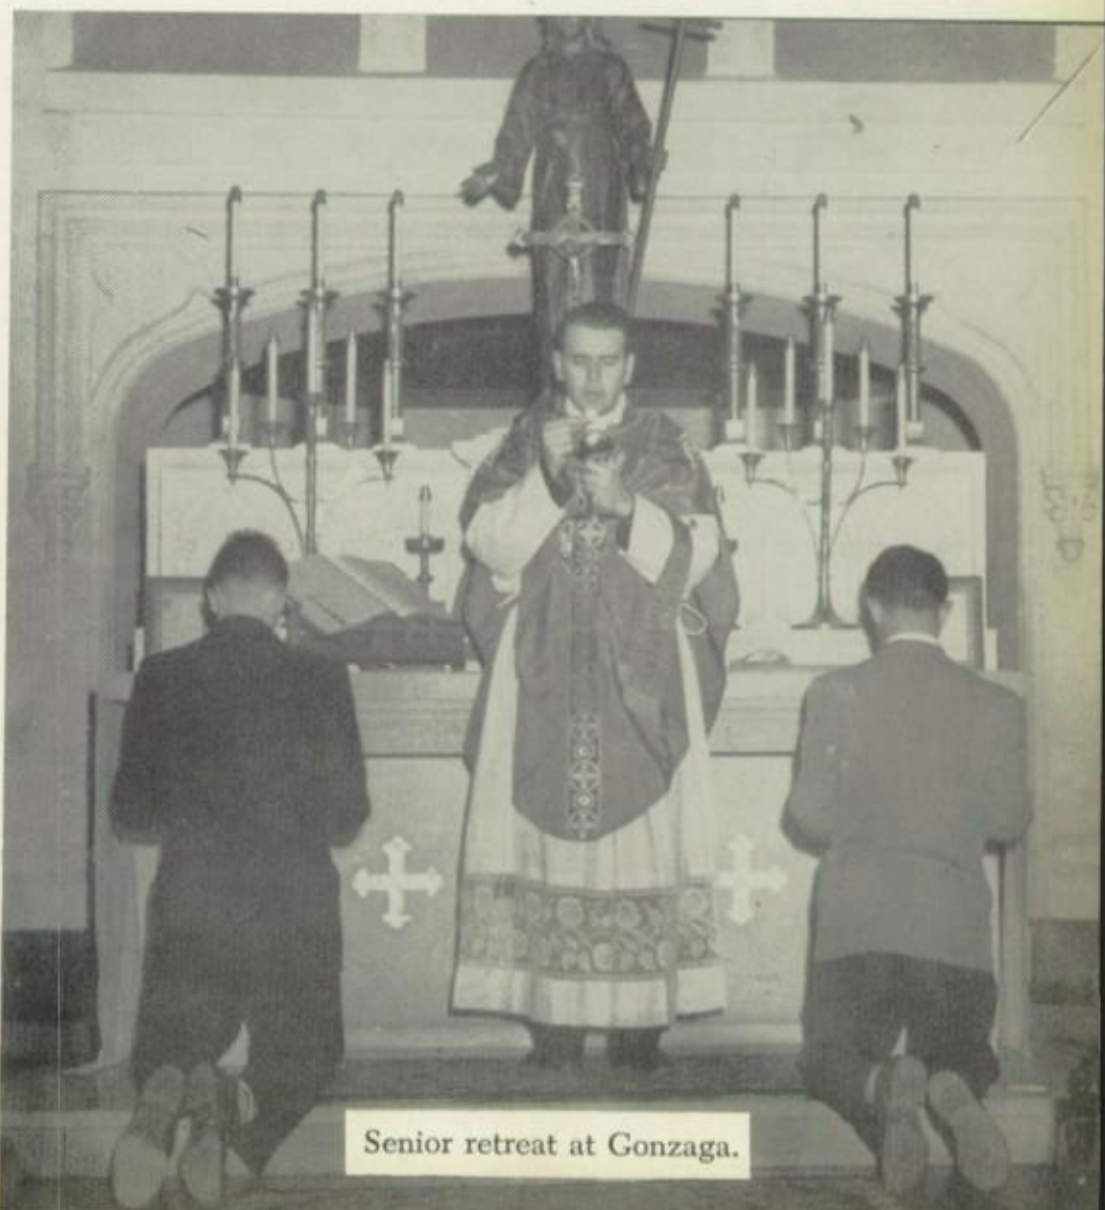

Let us pray.

Band

Commencing with the first football game of the year and continuing until the Graduation Exercises, the band again achieved meritorious honors in all its fields of endeavor.

During this time, it furnished that certain vivacity and delight which made such events as the St. Patrick's Day Parade, the Christmas Tree Lighting and the Spring Concert enjoyable.

The band gained a further degree of fame when they again gave an excellent recital of many popular pieces at the concert held at the school auditorium this May.

One of the most important happenings on the band's schedule was the Annual Spring Festival Contest of the Catholic High Schools. It is hoped as this page goes to press that the successes of last year's Ensemble and Quartets will be repeated.

However, it must be remembered that only through the patient instruction and direction of Mr. Rygiel and Brother McGowan could these triumphs have been accomplished.

St. Patrick's Day

Up the green line, in the middle of the avenue called Fifth, swept the strutting lads and high-stepping lasses. The sun mixed its golden rays with the emerald green of the day. Trumpets blared their brassy tidings, the drums echoed their sonorous "boom, boom, boom," while the Irishman's delight, the bagpipes, wailed the greetings of the season . . .

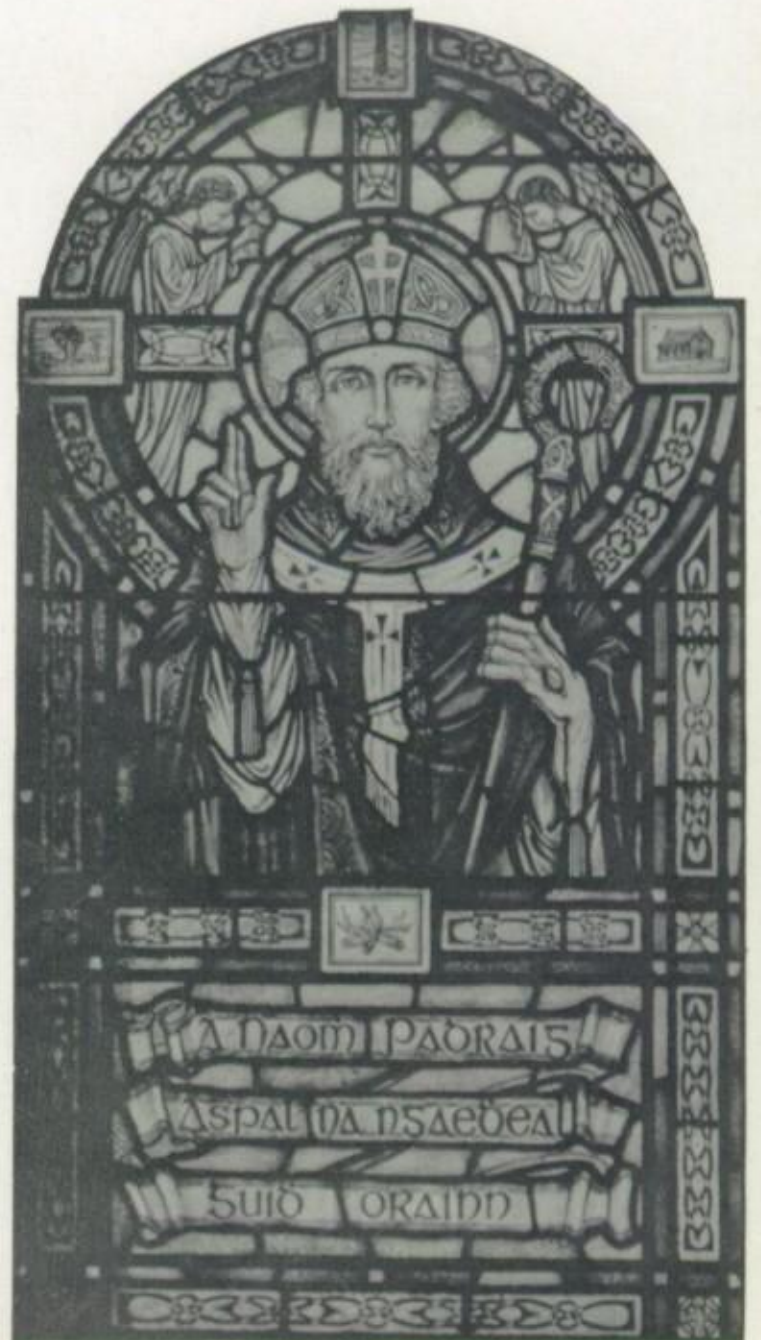

"HAPPY ST. PATRICK'S DAY!"

Mark time, march.

Glee Club

The Glee Club, for the second year under the very able direction of Brother G. R. Bellows, enjoyed a most interesting and successful season.

After practicing diligently for several months, the group made its first appearance at the annual Christmas party of the Mothers' Club. This performance was highlighted by the rendition of a selected program of Christmas Carols by the Mixed Group and of secular music by the entire Glee Club. They also appeared before the Fathers' Club at the April meeting.

The highlight of the season was the Spring Concert presented in conjunction with the Band on May 22nd. The large audience present attested to the group's fine technique and comprehension of the essentials of choral singing. The final performance, as in previous years, was given at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on Graduation Night.

Credit is due Arthur Piedmonte whose fine piano accompaniment greatly aided the group in its rendition of the various numbers.

The All Hallows Debating Society has enjoyed another most successful season. The Degree of Excellence has been awarded to both Vincent Ruane and Lawrence O'Neil by the National Forensic League as an award for their debating achievements over the last three years. John Morrissey, Jerome Brown, and John Broderick have attained the Degree of Honor as Juniors, while Eugene Fedigan and Richard Neuville have received the Degree of Merit.

Under the direction of Brother P. S. Collins, the Senior Debaters have emerged victoriously from contests with such schools as Cardinal Hayes, Power Memorial, and Rice. In the Father Gannon Tournament, held annually at Fordham, the team captured high honors. In the Edmundian Forensic Tournament, Jerome Brown and Richard Neuville received the first place trophy for their fine debating.

Besides debating, All Hallows has been well represented in the Journal-American Contest, and the Hearst Contest, as well as appearances on radio and television. Vincent Ruane, Lawrence O'Neill, Peter Duggan, Paul Ringdale, David Haid, and Patrick Vaughan figured prominently as orators to bring to a close a successful year in this field.

The Library League was founded over five years ago for the purpose of aiding Miss O'Reilly, the librarian, of increasing the capacity of library service, and of bringing about a larger amount of efficiency on the part of the library staff.

The members of the League participate in one of the most worthwhile but least-publicized occupations of all — the shelving, binding, and covering of books and the cataloguing of the numerous new additions to the library.

Judging from the appearance of the Library, the number of magnificent new books and the excellent catalogue card system, much credit is due to Miss O'Reilly, and the Senior Leaguers, Regan, Hickey, Breslin, Considine, Conaty, McGee, Buckley and Alsina.

The C. Y. A. Holy Hour, held at St. Peter and Paul's Church in the Bronx, on the third Sunday of every month during the school year, has attracted many students of high school age. The main purpose of the organization is reparation to Our Lord for all the sins of the world. The assemblage also prays for the conversion of Russia and for the misled people, particularly youths, who are turning toward Communism. The thousands who attend these holy hours not only receive the satisfaction of assisting others by praying for them but they also help to renew their own faith.

Getting off to a late start, the newly organized Poster Club immediately began to show its talent throughout the school.

Inaugurated not only to improve its members' drawing ability, but also to announce the coming student activities, the club has been successful in carrying out both these aims.

It is hoped that in the future, the Poster Club will be increased in membership, so that the burden of foretelling special events will not fall on a few.

Social Activities

Putting aside all past attendance records, this year's dances have proved to be the most successful ever held at All Hallows.

All this was accomplished mainly through the tireless efforts of the Dance Committee which worked hard under the guidance of Brother Haggerty to make every dance a pleasurable one. The excellent music provided by Dob Donovan's All Hallows Swing Band also had much to do with its success.

The efforts of all were rewarded by the overflowing crowds that came to the gym for a good time.

Blue and White

This year, under the watchful guidance of Brother Quinn, the staff of the "Blue and White" produced a paper comparable to any in recent years.

It's unusual success was due largely to the excellent direction of the Editor, Frank Muhlfeld and the improved layouts of Joe Keyes. Jimmy McIntyre's sport page not only received approval from all the students but also helped to arouse school interest in all athletics. The traditional "joke" column, "Low and Inside", was cleverly managed by the classic triumvirate, Murray, Paladino and Murphy.

Completing the Blue and White's coverage were the many pictures of Joe Dunn, the cartoons of Jim McIntyre, "In This Corner" by Bill Secor and the varied feature articles of the staff reporters.

The Halloween

In assuming their tasks as members of the year-book staff, this year's group has shown much talent, perseverance, and diligence in this most time-necessitating of all activities.

Since early in October, the afternoons have been spent in such unpleasant but worthy tasks as compiling captions, writeups, and layouts. Were it not for the capable supervision of Brother J. C. Collins, and the talents of our Editor-in-Chief and photographer, Kev Kadlec, our work would have been for naught. But neither can we forget the other editors and staff members, who have given unsparingly of their energy and time toward the publishing of a book that should be a source of pride and joy to all.

As in years gone by, it has been the purpose of this yearbook to present to the students a summary of the year's various happenings and achievements, together with a concise description of the teams and clubs, moderators and students, responsible for them. In addition, the staff has tried to capture those choice bits of humor and life that give a still more candid view of the All Hallows student.

In all sincerity, we believe we have given you, the reader, a universal and unbiased report, one that will capture for all time those ideals which have made us truly proud of this, our school.

As in the past, this year's Photography Club has formed the backbone around which the success of both the school yearbook and newspaper has been built. Its four capable members: Kev Kadlec, chief photographer, and his three assistants: John Kean, Bill Sullivan, and Joe Dunn, have continually supplied the above two activities with candid, on-the-spot shots, recording for future reference the events of the year. Then, too, there is Brother J. C. Collins, whose skillful moderation and supervision of the dark room activities have helped mold it into a competent organization.

Fathers' Club

The year ending 1953 has been the most gratifying since the inauguration of the Fathers' Club. Membership reached an all time high, and the monthly attendance taken in the aggregate, was also in excess of other years. A heavy expense was entailed in securing speakers of renown, it being the object of the President and his officers to further the wishes of the members in this respect.

The Annual Communion Breakfast was, as usual, a pronounced success, but by far the highlight of the year's activity was the staging of the Annual Boxing Night. This year the New York Police Glee Club came as an added attraction and stole the show.

The "Wednesday Nighters" continue to be the mainstay of remunerative support for the Brothers in their work.

The President, Mr. Gallagher, avails of this occasion to express his thanks to his fellow officers, to the committee members and to all who helped make the year so successful.

The Ladies' Auxiliary continues to make further strides in aiding the Brothers in their work. At the closing of the year 1952, the Officers presenting Brother Hurley, Moderator, with a magnanimous donation for the redecoration and beautifying of the Brothers' Oratory was an event of great importance. Already this year a remodeled kitchen is a testimony to their zeal and cooperation. Through card parties, a fashion show and membership fees, such success has come their way that the Ladies Auxiliary has become more and more important as a social function of the school. Mrs. J. Heaphy, the new President, and her officers tender their grateful thanks to all who contributed to make this a banner year.

Appeals for further openings are many, the main obstacle being that the Province is dependent entirely on outside financial help, and the lack of personnel.

Plagued by injuries and facing one of the toughest schedules ever tackled by an All Hallows football squad, the Blue and White battled on with fiery spirit. Although the record is not a symbol of shining success, it does not indicate the boys' spirit and work. Those who have won football letters certainly have the right to wear them proudly, for they have given their all for the school. With the addition of many new sparkling J. V. men, next Fall promises to yield a rich crop of All-City candidates. We salute these gridiron Gaels—both the coaches and the players!

All Hallows 0

Iona 21

A somewhat "green" squad of All Hallowsmen took the field against the classy Maroon and Gold. In a quick thrust, a shifty opponent was over for a score, before our men could recover. Coupling two long drives for touchdowns, they enjoyed a comfortable half time lead. Then we came to life! An O'Callaghan pass and a Farrell plunge put us deep in Iona territory, but the attack was stalled. Again in the final quarter Rod West intercepted, and appeared to be going all the way, only to be overtaken by a speedy defender. It was a hapless day for the squad and the five hundred fans who had traveled to the field.

Good line play was contributed by Lyons, Hoffman, and Schildwachter.

All Hallows 6

St. Francis 6

This game was all-All Hallows. Although neither team yielded a score in the first half, our superior line play and power packed drives completely demolished the Terrier defenses. However fumbles cost us many points! Late in the third period John O'Callaghan took a punt and snaked his way for a touchdown. The kick was blocked and with minutes to go St. Francis began its touchdown march. The noise was hushed as St. Francis attempted the all important conversion. No good!

All Hallows 6

St. John's 33

With the screaming headlines—"Redmen Top A. H.," we incurred our second loss of the campaign. Yard by yard, time and again, our battered line was driven back by the St. John's steam-roller. The mainstays of the forward wall were Ernie Haynes and Andy Dolce. Our lone marker came on a prolonged march, climaxed by a Dorrian-McLaughlin pass. St. John's, wait till next year!

Bobo stopped after a sizable gain.

All Hallows 6

Stepinac 27

Avenging their 1950 drubbing, 26-0, the White Plains eleven eked out a victory. In the opening moments it appeared that the Gaels' past flash was beginning to shine this season. With the ball deep in our territory, John O'Callaghan passed to Kev Comerford who outraced the Stepinac men to the eight, only to have the play nullified by a penalty. Midway in the second quarter, after the Flaming Red had scored twice, a long spiral caught by hard-running Steve McGrath sent the All Hallows stands wild. O'Callaghan faded to pass and then reversed field, cutting down the sidelines fifteen yards to the end zone. The game was tight until the fourth quarter, when the defense buckled, and Stepinac piled on fourteen points.

Our offense was at its best in this game.

All Hallows 0 Mt. St. Michael 34

This was "the big one" that got away. The highly-polished Mountie attack in a series of plays had scored a T.D. Although the scoreboard at half time read 21-0, the team did not give up but fought on, penetrating the enemy's defenses consistently in the final half. Bruising tackles by John Bock, Ernie Haynes, and Pete Duggan broke up many scoring bids by the Navy and Gold. It was Dorrian, O'Callaghan, Pfleigler, and McGrath as our back-field's "Four Horsemen".

The Junior Gaels, under the leadership of Brother Donnelly, emerged from a tough season with an outstanding record. They racked up three impressive victories and a tie while losing but one.

McGoldrick, Benjamin and O'Connor, with hard blocks and solid tackles from the line, romped St. Helena's 27-0. Next was the hard luck loss before Hayes' Cardinals in a swirling gale of snow. The team administered a crushing defeat to the Rams of Fordham, 15-6. Parody starred. Revenge was ours when our gridsters retaliated their only loss, beating Hayes 13-6. A wet, cold and bruised All Hallows squad rallied to Tie Cardinal Farley "13 all" as the campaign was brought to a close.

Many new trophies adorn the showcases of All Hallows, adding prestige to the school of champions. The 1953 Varsity Basketball team has been in no small way responsible. The squad, competing in one of the closest races in the CHSAA Division I, finished fourth, but was only one win shy of first place.

In tournament play, the Gaels were almost unbeatable. After winning four straight games in the Knights of Columbus Metropolitan Invitational Tournament, they bowed in the final round to St. Ann's. Thus All Hallows copped the second place trophy.

At Newport, Rhode Island, where the Eastern States Catholic Invitation Tournament was held, All Hallows ruled the court. The squad took the coveted first place prize, and earned the distinction of being the best Catholic High School team in the Northeast.

The prolific scoring and rebounding of Ernie Haynes and John McNamara earned them Tourney and All-City recognition. Also, sharpshooter Cunningham landed a post on the All-City Honor Roll. Captain "Whitey" McCullagh's defensive play strangled the enemy's winning hopes. Tirico, Kavanagh, Pfeigler, Sylvester, Ward and O'Callaghan also figured prominently in the Gaels' victorious season.

It would be an incomplete picture indeed, if we did not mention the men behind the scenes, Mr. King and Mr. Caruso, who shared the reins this year, and molded the players into a championship team.

Third in 1950 and '51, second in '52, All Hallows finally made it in 1953! The new champions of the sixteenth annual ESCIT won on a pair of tap-ins by John McNamara in overtime, as the squad took the final from West Catholic, 63-62.

The Gaels opened the tourney by crushing Vincentian Institute of Albany 69-55. In the semi-final play, they nipped LaSalle 76-73. In this game the schools set a tourney record for a two-team total in one game. The aggregate, 149 points, was nineteen better than the old record.

Again this year All Hallowsmen dominated the All Star team. Ernie Haynes, second high scorer of the tourney, was named its outstanding player, while John McNamara, third high scorer was also voted a first string selection. Ernie flipped in fifty-nine points, with "Mac" one under that total.

The 1953 yearling hoopsters outclassed the opposition as they rolled to victory. Adding a trophy to their collection and a great many wins to their record, they looked like a traditional Gael squad. Next year many of the players will move up the ladder to Junior Varsity ball, one step closer to the top grade. In the coming seasons they will develop greatly and will pace the future city champion teams at All Hallows.

That powerhouse promised in last year's edition of Halloween has finally arrived. From the opening gun, the squad has virtually scorched the boards and cinders with its "red-hot" performances.

Highlighting the indoor season was the excellent showing of the team in the BMW championships, the landslide victory in the Quadrangle meet, and the surprise showing of strength in the City Championships.

New city champ of the Junior 280 yard dash is fleet-footed Ed Geigel. Gaw and Fazzino came very close to being crowned champions in their respective runs.

The outdoor team promises to be even better than its indoor counterpart. Standouts should be, middle distance men: Fazzino, Gaw, Captain Frank Fitzpatrick; sprinters: Geigel, Piedmonte, Fowler, Samson, and Kyle; milers: Rooney and Bradshaw. The addition of Don Smith (440), and the return of quartermilers Bob Homan and Dan Slattery should add more speed and depth to the Gael wing-foots.

After early successes in the Seton Hall Relays, Coach O'Connell predicts a fine showing in the relays at Penn, and a chance of dominating the ICB meet.

VARSDITY BASEBALL

Every fan knows that Yankee Stadium is the "Home of Champions", but few realize that less than a hundred yards from the stadium, there is another "home of champions"—Babe Ruth Field. Here the 1952 Bronx-Manhattan Champions, our own All Hallows sluggers, play their home games.

Again this year, AH's "Casey Stengel," Mr. Dick King, has fielded a fearsome nine. The potential pennant winners, in their first three encounters, have displayed the hitting, fielding, and pitching that should carry them to the top of the division. Last season the boys were deprived of the City Championship by Loughlin High, and so are out for revenge this campaign. Power appears to be the main obstacle that they must overcome.

Let's take a look at the team. Left handed power hitter John O'Callaghan is at the initial sack. Dorrian and Ricci make a slick fielding keystone combination, while the "glue-gloved" Frank Tirico is at third base. Besides being dynamite at the plate, the outfield is strong armed and fast afoot. Jim Hanlon, Joe McNamara, and Hank Magnussen are the regular fly chasers. The backstop and cleanup hitter for the Gaels is T. O'Connor. The pitching staff, topped by Fitzgerald, also includes Mulvaney, Hoffman, and Whelehan.

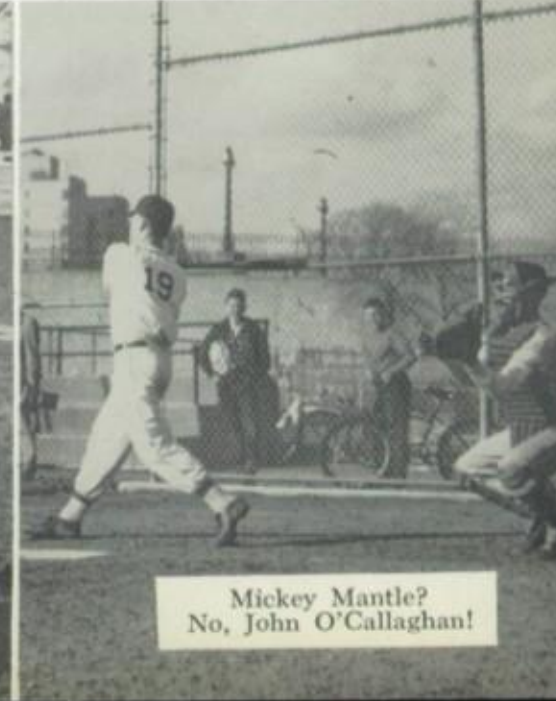

We agree with Brother Bradley, the moderator, that this year promises to be another gold letter season for the club.

Brother Horan's young squad has come a long way since its first workout at the start of the season. A fireballing pitching staff, backed by clever ball handlers, and some hard-hitting batsmen have been molded into a well knit aggregation. The cub Gaels look like winning timber and could go all the way to the city championship.

In 1897 the Brothers established their first school in Kimberley, where Catholics were in sore need of facilities for Secondary Education. Soon pupils were attracted from all parts of the Union and from territories beyond it, so successful were its early pupils in Secondary School and University Examinations. In recent years, schools and colleges have been opened in Pretoria, Boksburg, Capetown, Bloemfontein and still more recently a native mission school, outside Kimberley, staffed entirely by Brothers from the American Province.

"The Mikado"

REV. BROTHER G. R. BELLOWES

REV. BROTHER C. C. CURTIN

MR. ANTHONY RYGIEL, M.A.
Accompanist

On Friday, March 20, and on Sunday, March 22, at 8:30 P. M., the Grammar School Department presented an abridged and simplified version of the operetta, "The Mikado," by Gilbert and Sullivan. Both performances were held in the school auditorium before large and enthusiastic gatherings of parents, friends, and invited guests.

Directed by Brothers G. R. Bellows and C. C. Curtin, the operetta was both sung and staged in a manner admirably suited to please even the most discriminating of Savoyards. The youthful thespians were surprisingly adept in their ability to communicate intelligently both the droll, satiric banter of Gilbert's lyrics as well as the lilt-mocking of Sullivan's melodic score. keen understanding of the heart and substance of a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta probably accounted for the evident enthusiasm with which each performer entered into his role. But enthusiasm was not the only commendable feature of this production. Every shade and nuance of meaning in each line was plumbed to its depths and delivered in clear, well-enunciated tones. This commendable diction of the principals was a large factor contributing to the whole-hearted enjoyment of the operetta by those present.

In the role of the pompous, corrupt public official, Poo-Bah, Hugh McLade displayed an astonishingly mature grasp and understanding of every facet of a difficult role. In particular, his diction was of the highest order. Daniel Ahearn's portrayal of Ko-Ko brought to light the too-often neglected warmer qualities of the Lord High Executioner. The humor of the role, too, became, in his hands, an organic part of Ko-Ko's character rather than the vulgar slapstick of tiring imitation. Raoul Orceyre's portrayal of the Mikado was another highlight of the production. His singing, acting, and enunciation brought to this prize role the verve and drive essential to its successful characterization. The portrayal of Nanki-poo by John Ricci displayed to excellent advantage both his understanding of the part as well as the well-placed tones of his pleasant, soprano voice. William Berlinghoff, as Pish-Tush, sang the very difficult "Our Great Mikado" number in sprightly, ringing tones, and displayed throughout the performance the necessary gravity of a Japanese nobleman unaffected by the corrupting influence of dissolute companions. As Yum-Yum, William Frank brought a sparkling freshness to a difficult role. His poise and stage presence were also noteworthy. In the roles of Pitti-Sing and Peep-Bo, Michael Moretti and John Lazzari captivated the audience by their gayety and lightheartedness. Finally, the chorus, by its lively renditions of catchy tunes and by its precision in movement, added new laurels to a production characterized by unusual maturity of presentation.

PAPAL AND EPISCOPAL COMMENDATIONS

"We esteem highly, Beloved Son, this charity of yours, which is exercised in the Christian education of the young whom we love so fondly. For we dearly understand that such charity conduces, in the highest degree, to the welfare of Church and State.

Pope Pius X

"... Sincerest congratulations for the prodigious development of the Institute, and the wish that the Lord may continue to prosper it." Pope Pius X

"We desire, therefore, that as many Aspirants as possible may flock to your Congregation, and that they, inspired by the Spirit of God, may labor wholeheartedly in your noble work." Pope Pius XI

"To meet the urgent needs of the present time, I should rather see a great increase in vocations to the Christian Brothers than to the priesthood." Bishop Flynn

"We all hope and pray that many vocations may be attracted to the Order of the Christian Brothers so that new foundations may be opened in other parts of the West where they are so badly needed." Bishop Brown

"Never, so long as I live, shall I cease to pay my debt of gratitude; and I pray God to touch the hearts of thousands of young men to join this noble band of Christian Teachers." Bishop O'Farrell

"... I am one of the first to realize that the growth and vigor of the Church in Australia is due to the marvelous work of the Christian Brothers. It is almost unprecedented that a new Congregation of men should within such a short space open their hundredth house." Cardinal Gilroy

"... Proud am I of these Christian Brothers... they are living testimony to the truth and wisdom that must predominate in the souls of men if they would become builders as they teach the youth of America to live in love and loyalty to God and our beloved country." Cardinal Spellman—March, 1939

"The noble work to which the Brothers dedicate their lives, that of training the minds and forming the habits of youths in accordance with the precepts of Our Divine Master, is one in which we are particularly interested." Pope Pius XII
